Price Of Gasoline In Santa Ana Boosted To 16 Cents

STANDARD IS FIRST FIRM TO MOVE UP

Other Major Companies Expected to Swing Into Line Before Nightfall

TANK PRICES HIGHER

Many Concerns Sell Gas at Low Price Until Word Received From Offices

WITH STANDARD OIL Company announcing a five and a half cent increase in tank wagon price on gasoline in Santa Ana and other Orange county communities, end of the recent gasoline war that has given motorists new record low prices for the past several months seems to be at an end with every indication that the three other major oil companies and the independents would fall in line with the Standard price increase before night, bringing retail prices up to 16 cents.

Tank wagon prices on Standard gasoline were announced this morning as 13 cents or five and a half cent increase over the old price of seven and a half cents wholesale. The Union Oil distributors in Orange county had received no notice of an increase in either the wholesale or retail price at a late hour this morning but were expecting it at any minute.

While the tank wagon price went up to 13 cents this morning, local dealers operating as Standard Stations Inc., were continuing the policy of competitive prices and continued to sell gasoline at the old price of 9 cents. At the local office of the Shell Oil Company notification of the price increase had not been received but it was said there that the price was expected at any time as the Shell policy has always been to follow the lead of other major companies.

At the Richfield offices in Whittier, in charge of distribution in Orange county the raise is expected at any minute. The same situation prevailed at the offices of distributors of Texaco, Gilmour, Esso, Associated and General petroleum gasoline. The raise

CANNERY PLANNED AT FOLSOM PRISON

SACRAMENTO, June 19.—(UP)—Convicts at California's two state prisons will eat prison-canned fruit this winter.

Construction of a large cannery, capable of supplying canned goods for the two prisons, at Folsom prison, was announced here today by prison authorities.

Much of the fruit and vegetables to be canned will be grown on the "farm" at Folsom prison, according to Warden Court Smith, who has greatly enlarged the orchard and gardening activities at the prison.

With the exception of potatoes and onions, 90 per cent of the vegetables consumed at Folsom have been grown on the prison farm, Smith said.

HOOVER CALLS OFF WEEK END TRIP TO CAMP

Returns from Mid-western Speaking Tour and Is Back in Office

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(UP)—President Hoover returned from his mid-western speaking trip enthusiastic and encouraged, but feeling that he has been misrepresented by those who regarded the journey as having some political significance.

Mr. Hoover feels that political implications have been read into his remarks, particularly those at Indianapolis, Ind., where he spoke at a big Republican chicken dinner. He would prefer to be regarded as president of the United States and not as president of the Republican party.

The president has been pictured generally as having in effect opened on this trip the campaign for his re-nomination and re-election. It is a picture he would rather discourage. He does not intend to make any more trips for some time. The picture he would give the country is that of its president sitting in the White House working, rather than of a politician barnstorming about the country.

Mr. Hoover was at his desk 15 minutes after his train arrived here yesterday, and in 15 minutes more Secretary of State Stimson had been called in to discuss the latest international developments. Today the president called off his usual week-end trip to the Rapidan.

NAUTILUS LOSES BRIDGE, PERISCOPE

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(UP)—Already battered and partially disabled in mid-Atlantic, the submarine Nautilus in which Explorer Hubert Wilkins proposes to reach the North Pole now has had its bridge and periscope swept away.

The battleship Wyoming, reported to the navy department that it was keeping in close touch with the submarine. The navy report said: "Wyoming reports very rough sea with ship rolling heavily. Nautilus has lost bridge and periscope. Can see nothing. Sealed up inside without running lights. Wyoming keeping in searchlight and frequent radio communications. Making course and speed as desired."

The report was timed 9 p. m. last night. At that hour the Nautilus still was about 350 miles from Queenstown, Ireland, her immediate goal.

HARRY NEW GETS FREEDOM MONDAY

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif., June 19.—(UP)—Harry S. New Jr., who claimed he was a son of Former Postmaster General New, will be paroled here Monday after serving 11 years for the slaying of his sweetheart.

New told prison officials today he planned to return to Los Angeles, where he was convicted of second degree murder in the death of Freda J. Lesser in July, 1919. New shot Miss Lesser to death when she told him she was to become a mother, and then gave himself up to police.

CAPITALIST TO WED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—(UP)—Joseph S. Thompson, San Francisco capitalist and clubman, who was divorced last Monday in Reno, revealed today he will marry Miss Germaine de Marie Requet, daughter of a prominent family of Bordeaux, France, next Tuesday.

Miss Requet has just resigned a professorship of romance languages she held at the University of Utah for several years, and has come to San Francisco for the wedding. Thompson is a brother of Kathleen Norris, the writer.

Dogs Granted Privileges On Vehicles

LOS ANGELES, June 19.—(UP)—Dogs which lead blind persons were privileged characters on Los Angeles street cars, interurbans and busses today as the result of an order by the state railway commission requiring the Pacific Electric railway to haul such dogs as free passengers. Heretofore, all dog passengers on Pacific Electric lines were forced to remain in the arms or laps of their owners.

The change was ordered after Charles Brown, blind Long Beach Junior college student, complained that it was inconvenient for him to hold his German shepherd "eye dog" in his lap while traveling daily between Long Beach and Los Angeles.

FORD CHARGES DETROIT MAYOR WASTED MONEY

Grand Jury Probe Probably Will Follow Accusations of Theft

DETROIT, June 19.—(UP)—A grand jury inquiry loomed today in the feud between Mayor Frank Murphy and the Ford Motor company over charges of "criminal negligence" in administration of $17,000,000 city unemployment relief funds.

Diplomatic phrases were discarded as the dispute waxed bitter, and Edsel Ford himself joined in the controversy. Both sides spoke their minds freely. Harry H. Bennett, the Ford spokesman, abandoning the usual formality of Ford statements to attack the city welfare department in terms of the most stinging frankness.

Bennett charged that negligence in the administration of the funds would "shock the city" when revealed. He accused the city government of attempting to belaud the issue by attacking the Ford Motor company for its treatment of destitute laid-off employees. Ford workers have been drawing money from the city while at the same time getting pay at the River Rouge plant, the executive claims. The charges followed revelations that two young clerks in the department had stolen more than $200,000 of the dole funds.

HOOVER NOT TO CUT PROHIBITION FUNDS

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(UP)—Prohibition enforcement is to be exempted from President Hoover's economy campaign, it was disclosed today.

Neither Attorney General Mitchell nor Federal Prohibition Director Amos W. W. Woodcock have been able to find where any reduction in expenditures can be made. A total of around $50,000,000 yearly is required for prohibition enforcement.

The main endeavor will be to keep enforcement funds down to their present level. Woodcock said he could not tell at this time whether he would ask congress for an increase in appropriation, but it is plainly indicated there will be no decrease.

Canada To Mexico Flight Made In 7 Hours, 48 Minutes

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex., June 19.—(UP)—J. Goodwin Hall, former U. S. Army aviator and New York broker, claimed a new speed record today after flying here from Vancouver, B. C., in seven hours and 48 minutes.

OPPOSITION TO RAILROAD RATE BOOSTS FILED

Agriculturists and Lumber Interests Join Fight Against Roads

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(UP)—Agriculturists, lumber interests, cotton men and general merchandisers joined today in fighting the railroad's proposed 15 per cent increase in freight rates.

While many large shippers are withholding their protests until the interstate commerce commission sets a date for hearings on the proposed increases, condemnations of the railroad's petition already are arriving in large numbers.

On the railroad's side, a statement was issued by the American Railway association, saying that net income goes to the federal, state and local governments in taxes. In the first four months of this year, the association said, $6.75 cents out of each dollar of net revenue and 7.51 cents out of each dollar of gross receipts, went into taxes.

The railroad's 1930 tax bill was placed by the association at $368,000,000, compared with $31,000,000 in 1890.

Carl Williams, member of the federal farm board, said he believed farmers would look upon the rate increase petition with enthusiastic dislike and that the attitude of agriculture in general was that the roads should reduce their rates rather than raise them.

California One Of Few Cool Spots

Temperatures That Range From 90 to 110 Degrees Reported

CHICAGO, June 19.—(UP)—The nation sweltered today as a sizzling sun and sultry breezes brought temperatures ranging from 90 to 110 degrees.

Hundreds of prostrations, scores of deaths and suffering was reported from more than half of the nation's states. Accident deaths increased as thousands of persons sought refuge from the heat in motoring and at bathing beaches.

There was no prospect of general relief until tomorrow night, the United States weather bureau said, although scattered rains may be expected tonight in some sections of the midwest.

From the Atlantic seaboard to the Rocky Mountains and from Winnipeg, Man., to Memphis, Tenn., new June heat records were in the making. In many sections it was the hottest June 19 on record.

Comfortable temperatures were reported from only a few sections, they included the northern Pacific coast states and the northern sections of Montana, North Dakota and Minnesota.

The heat wave was welcomed, however, in the southwest wheat states and in the corn belt.

In Springfield, Ill., the mercury had risen to 91 above at 10:30 a. m. members of the state legislature, tolling through the last day of the 1931 session removed their coats and worked in their shirt sleeves with handkerchiefs around their necks to keep starched collars from wilting.

Chicago was one of the many cities where the temperature was near 95. The city met the emergency by sending extra life guards to bathing beaches and opening up water hydrants to provide showers for children in the slums.

Three persons died after being prostrated in Minnesota and North Dakota. About 15 other deaths in Minnesota and Wisconsin died of causes attributable to the heat.

London Diver Is Trapped In Water As Cylinder Falls

LONDON, June 19.—(UP)—William Milton, a diver, was trapped in 15 feet of mud and water at the new Ford works at Dagenham, near London, today when a steel cylinder in which he was working slipped from its moorings.

Workers made frantic efforts to rescue him. He appeared to be still alive after five hours in the mud. Tangle lines prevented his co-workers from raising him by ordinary methods.

Milton, a man of 45, was working 12 feet in diameter and 40 feet in height. It slipped several feet and the rush of water sucked Milton outside into the mud.

VANDERBILT, JR. FILES DIVORCE PAPERS TODAY

Author and Publisher Who Chased Wife's Friend With Gun, Plaintiff

RENO, Nev., June 19.—(UP)—Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., today filed suit for divorce from Mary W. Vanderbilt.

Extreme cruelty was charged in the complaint.

Vanderbilt was represented by Attorney Sam Platt.

A property settlement will be arranged later, it was announced, between Platt and Attorney William Woodburn, representing Mrs. Vanderbilt.

Filing of the suit today proved to be the "court action" which Vanderbilt told the United Press he had under contemplation as a result of his quarrel early Monday morning with Peter Arno, New York comic artist.

Versions of the affair were almost as numerous as the principal involved.

Vanderbilt said that, resenting Arno's attentions to his wife, he had seized a gun and fired several shots at the illustrator when the latter and Mrs. Vanderbilt drove up in front of his home early Monday morning.

Later he changed his version and said that he had chased Arno with an unloaded pistol.

Arno denied that the entire affair was anything more than a verbal argument.

Mrs. Vanderbilt said she knew nothing of any pistol-play, attempted or accomplished.

She left the Vanderbilt home immediately after the episode, and has been living half a mile away with Mr. and Mrs. True Vencil, close friends.

Vanderbilt meantime moved to the Riverside hotel.

Arno also moved from his home, which adjoins the Vanderbilt residences in an exclusive district of Reno.

Arno, completing his six weeks residence in Nevada the day after the "bulletless gunplay" episode related by Vanderbilt, did not file

S. F. BRIDGE BIDS TOTAL 25 MILLION

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—(UP)—Engineers undertook today a detailed analysis of bids totaling $25,000,000 for units of the Golden Gate bridge, in the hope that full reports may be given by Monday.

A tentative check, it was announced today, disclosed no change in preliminary figures. The total cost will approximate $24,000,000 with an extra $1,000,000 for cement.

A block of $6,000,000 in bonds will be sold July 8, and it was indicated yesterday no contracts will be awarded until after that date.

Another Leave Of Absence Granted Ray Lyman Wilbur

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—(UP)—An attempt by President Hoover to retain Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur as secretary of the interior ended successfully today when Stanford university trustees granted Dr. Wilbur a further leave of absence as president until December 31, 1932.

Leland W. Cutler, president of the board, of which President Hoover also is a member, said Dr. Robert E. Swain will remain as acting president and that the arrangement whereby Dr. Wilbur has not received a university salary will be continued.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, June 19.—(To the Editor of The Register:—) The government has finally been able to arrange an "armistice" with Al Capone. He is to go to jail "in person" for two years (which term he named himself.) His lieutenants are to carry on his business and deliver the receipts to him at the jail every day. In return the government is to feed, clothe and protect him from harm and release him just about the time business turns the corner. The government is remodeling Leavenworth now for him.

250 MEASURES BEFORE ROLPH ON FINAL DAY

Indications Point to Tidelands Bill Being Killed By Governor

SACRAMENTO, June 19.—(UP)—Faced by more than 250 measures, which he must either sign or pocket-veto by midnight, Governor Rolph today prepared to make his final decision on the fate of these measures.

The bill substituting the lethal gas chambers for the gallows in California was the leading measure that remained undecided today.

Other outstanding bills, however, remaining for decision were the striped bass bill, four of the administration's reorganization bills, the Baker "secret divorce" bill, the $550,000 bovine tuberculosis indemnification measure, the cemetery act, and appropriation measures aggregating approximately $1,000,000.

Fewer than 100 bills are expected to die by the "pocket veto" route when Governor Rolph ends his bill-signing tonight.

At least one of the administration bills—the Patterson measure setting up a new division of oil and gas in the department of natural resources—is expected to be given a pocket veto, as it has been held to conflict with the Sharkey oil commission and pro-ratio measure already signed.

The governor will also kill the Badham bill prohibiting communities from levying a license tax on trucks and chain stores delivering merchandise to local merchants for resale, and the bill granting tidelands to Huntington Beach for oil drilling purposes.

Rolph Disregards Webb's Warning In Granting Pardon

SACRAMENTO, June 19.—(UP)—Disregarding the warning of Attorney General U. S. Webb that Fayette D. Marble, 21, son of a Pasadena millionaire, is technically a "three-time loser," and must obtain a supreme court recommendation for executive clemency, Governor Rolph last night granted the youth a full pardon from three counts of manslaughter.

Marble, in jail at Los Angeles, faced a prison sentence of from one to 10 years on each of the counts. The conviction grew out of an automobile accident last December in which three persons were killed. Liquor was not a factor in connection with the accident, the governor was informed.

Sacramento Boats Quit When River Level Takes Drop

SACRAMENTO, June 19.—(UP)—Because of the extreme low level of the Sacramento river, river commerce has been suspended north of Sacramento, it was announced here today.

This is the first time in many years the river has not been navigable beyond Sacramento.

Boats of the Sacramento Navigation company operating to Colusa and Butte City were withdrawn, and freight is now being brought from the upper river cities to Sacramento by rail and truck and loaded on the company's steamers here.

HOLD TREATY OF 1916 NOW NULL, VOID

Legislative Chamber Adopts Report Declaring Pact Non-existent Since '26

PRESIDENT INFORMED

Occupation By Troops of United States Began After 1915 Revolution

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, June 19.—(UP)—The legislative chamber unanimously adopted a report today declaring the treaty with the United States to have been non-existent since May, 1926.

A message was sent to President Stenio Vincent asking immediate steps be taken through regular channels to put a stop to the "illegal occupation" of the republic by the United States.

The report said the presence of American military forces is unnecessarily vexing and dangerous, since the election of a stable government.

The convention signed Sept. 16, 1916, expired May 3, 1926," the report said. The additional act of May 28, 1917, is null and should be considered non-existent. The Haitian executive should act diligently in the name of the republic to suspend as soon as possible the effects of the convention and the American military occupation.

If the senate approves the report, it will go to the president for final action. He can withhold a decision indefinitely if he chooses.

Haiti has a population of more than 2,000,000, mostly negroes.

Haiti and Santo Domingo jointly occupy a large island in the Caribbean, between Cuba and Porto Rico. Haiti has had a long and bloody history almost since its discovery by Columbus in 1492. It was freed from the French in the revolution headed by Toussaint L'Ouverture in 1791. Revolutions, massacres and assassination characterized its subsequent political development.

After a revolution and massacre in 1915, the United States marines landed and have been there since. A treaty became effective the next year which the United States agreed to assist in the establishment of an orderly government and assumed partial control of the country's finances.

The natives rose against the marines late in 1929 and some of them were killed. President Hoover sent a commission headed by W. Cameron Forbes to investigate, and it recommended ending American supervision as soon as the political situation warrants it.

NEW MORALS CASE TRIAL ON JULY 13

SAN DIEGO, June 19.—(UP)—Alexander Pantages, Jesse Shreve, William Jobelmann and Mrs. Olive Clark Day will be re-tried July 13 on morals charges growing out of a party which Lydia Nitto, Hollywood girl, who says she is 17 years old, claims she attended.

The date for the new trial was set by Superior Judge L. N. Turentine yesterday after he dismissed a jury of nine men and three women who deliberated 10½ hours without reaching a verdict.

The jury was reported to have stood 10 to 2 for acquittal. All of the jurors agreed, it was said, that Pantages should be acquitted on both counts.

Governor Won't Sign Lethal Gas Chamber Measure

SACRAMENTO, June 19.—(UP)—Governor Rolph today announced he would not sign the bill substituting the lethal gas for the gallows in California.

His action came following a hearing last night in the executive offices at which many persons interested in the subject expressed their opinions.

RUSH TO ENROLL FOR SANTA ANA Y CAMP PERIOD

With the date for opening of the Santa Ana Y.M.C.A. boys' camp season at Oseola, less than a month away, Secretary D. H. Tibbels reports that his list of reservations is filling up at a rapid rate.

The older boys from Santa Ana and vicinity go to Oseola on July 14 for their annual two weeks of recreation and outing. Sixty boys constitute the quota, and more than 50 of them are already signed up. At present the camp is occupied by boys from Orange and Anaheim, nearly 100 boys and men being listed on the camp roll. They report ideal weather and wonderfully good time in their letters to home folks.

Northern Boys Meet

These boys come home on June 30, and the older boys from the north part of Orange county take their places, under the direction of Secretary Archie Raitt.

The Santa Ana older boys will go to camp next, and indications are that they will have their usual large enrollment.

People desiring to visit the camp are advised to go to Seven Oaks, and then drive up the Santa Ana canyon seven miles, which brings them to Oseola. The road by Barton Flats is also in good condition, but the grades are heavier than by Seven Oaks.

PLEADS GUILTY TO NARCOTIC CHARGE

Percy G. Howe, alias George Miller, entered a plea of guilty today when arraigned before Judge James I. Allen, on a charge of forging a prescription for narcotics. He entered an oral petition for probation and the hearing was set for June 26. It is alleged that Howe presented a forged prescription for 100 half-grain morphine sulphate tablets at the Wingwood Drug store here on May 10.

An information was filed against Antonio Mardigal charging him with possession of a concealed weapon by an alien. His arraignment was continued until this afternoon after the court appointed Carl Cowles as his attorney.

suit for divorce from his wife, Lois Long, as had been anticipated.

Meantime Mrs. Florence Rice Smith, daughter of Grantland Rice, who recently obtained a divorce from her broken-husband, was said to have broken off an engagement to marry Peter Arno upon the latter's own divorce.

Arno's attention to Mrs. Vanderbilt was asserted, in the divorce colony, to have occasioned the break with Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Vanderbilt is the former Mary Davidson Weir Logan, noted Chicago beauty.

She and Cornelius were married in Reno three years ago, after each had received a Nevada divorce from former marital partners.

Vanderbilt's first wife was Rachel Littleton of New York. Mary Vanderbilt was divorced from Walter Hancock Logan, partner in the brokerage firm of Logan & Bryan.

Today's court action was the first legal step to materialize out of a series of threats from both sides in the pre-dawn uproar of Monday.

Arno had applied to Police Chief Kirkley for a bodyguard, as a result of asserted threats against his life by Vanderbilt. Kirkley refused the request.

"It's the funniest thing I've heard in a long time," the chief told the United Press. "All this talk of gunplay makes me laugh. If someone set off a firecracker behind those two they'd both drop dead."

RARE COFFEE WINS COUNTLESS NEW
USERS BY FLAVOR

Amazing Popularity of Hills Bros. Coffee Tribute to Roasting Process

Years of experiment by Hills Bros. have resulted in the origination and perfection of the only Controlled Roasting process in use today.

By Hills Bros. patented process, the degree of roast is positively controlled. The quantity of coffee passing into the roaster—about three pounds at a time—does not vary. The speed of the flow and the temperature remain the same, with the result that Hills Bros. Coffee is absolutely uniform. This roasting method is to a large degree responsible for the frequent question, "Why is Hills Bros. Coffee always the same?"

Comparisons show that Hills Bros. Coffee has a flavor no other coffee has. The ordinary method of roasting in bulk cannot insure a uniform roast because there is a lack of control.

The vacuum can, in which Hills Bros. Coffee is packed, keeps the coffee fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is completely removed from the can and kept out. Coffee does not stay fresh in ordinary cans, even if air-tight. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can. Sold by grocers everywhere.

Hills Bros. Coffee, Inc., Los Angeles, Calif.

Gordon, older sons, will remain at the family home here, both being employed in Brea.

sociation adopted a resolution asking the interstate commerce commission to deny the carriers' petition.

Other protests: Senator Henrik Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota—"A general increase in railroad rates at any time is an attack upon the income of commerce and agriculture." Higginbotham Brother & Company, Comanche, Tex.—"The deplorable financial condition of the farmers and unorganized labor makes unthinkable any addition to living costs."

Board of Railroad commissioners of North Dakota—"We deny the existence of any emergency requiring general freight rate increases and urge that such a petition be dismissed."

Playground Cost Error Corrected

Due to a typographical error in a story which appeared in the Register Wednesday concerning appropriations for summer playground work which had been made by the city council and the board of education, it appeared that each body had set aside only $200 for this work. The amounts set up by the two tax disbursing bodies are in reality $2000 each, or a total of $4000 for the seven weeks program at 10 playgrounds.

STANDARD IS FIRST FIRM TO MOVE UP

had not yet been officially announced but word was expected at any minute.

Announcement of the advance of wholesale prices in the Los Angeles area was made last night with the indication pointing to adoption of a three-cent differential, running retail price to 16 cents. In the San Francisco area the price was expected to reach 16 1/4 cents.

In announcing the increase in wholesale prices the Standard Oil Company also announced an increase to be paid for crude oil starting at 7 o'clock this morning. This announcement said: "The Standard Oil Company of California announces an advance in the prices it will pay for its purchase of crude oil, effective June 19, at 7 a. m. These prices represent an advance of from 20 to 40 cents per barrel on the average grades of refinable crude oil."

"The company also announces an advance of 6 1/4 cents in the tank-wagon price of gasoline to 3 cents in Los Angeles and 1 1/2 cents in San Francisco, including the 3 cents state tax. Prices at all points supplied from California will be on an equivalent basis."

"The company states that these crude oil prices apply only to crude oil produced in accordance with the allowable quantities set by the California state-wide curtailment committee. The company's action is intended to point the way to end the most disastrous economic breakdown ever experienced by the California oil industry and to remove a serious menace to the economic welfare of the community as set forth in its public announcement of today."

This price increase, according to oil men, will result in advances of prices from 35 cents to 75 cents per barrel for the finest grade of crude oil.

The Shell company's announcement that it would follow the lead of Standard Oil led to the belief that all the major companies and independents as well would fall into line at once and end the four-months price war that has offered the motorist an unusual low price on motor fuel.

it's the "feel"

EVERY user of a typewriter is entitled to the satisfaction that one finds in an L. C. Smith. It's a real joy to write on one—it is appreciated most by people who have used typewriters for years and know the difference in "feel."

There are lots of reasons. Among them are the absence of clackety-clack noise. The ball-bearing type bars that move with easy precision and response to the lightest touch—and the fact that they're non-stickable! The type bars on an L. C. Smith do not stick, no matter how you hit them.

And the L. C. Smith stands up under hard usage, absorbs punishment, and clicks along sweetly after years of usage!

BAND CONCERT SEASON OPENS IN BIRCH PARK

By RUTH ANDREWS

Greeted by a fine gathering of several thousand appreciative music lovers drawn from Santa Ana and various Orange county communities for this much-anticipated event, the Santa Ana Municipal band, directed by D. C. Clanton, presented the opening concert of its regular summer series in Birch park last evening. Following a winter of regular weekly rehearsals, the popular organization gave every evidence of excellent condition, all indications favoring what will undoubtedly be an especially successful season in the history of local musical events.

An attractive program of classic and popular favorites was opened by martial rhythms of Bradley's "Second Regiment Band" march, succeeded by a pleasing interpretation of the melodious "Orpheus" overture from Offenbach, master of French light opera. Throughout the overture, the wealth of melody for which the work is noted was outlined with delicate detail and clearly-construed instrumentation, lightness and color-contrast found in the unflattering presto of the final theme.

An operatic fantasia "Creme de la Creme" (Moses-Tobani) proved an effective arrangement of well-contrasted familiar operatic themes, clearly phrased, the spirited challenge of a passage from the popular "William Tell" offering a warmly applauded climax. Rendition of "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" was a graceful encore.

Maurice Phillips, baritone soloist, who enjoys wide popularity among local music-lovers, was convincing in Tosti's well-known emotional ballad, "Good-Bye," his mellow tone well-sustained at the impressive close. Continued applause brought the favorite Italian "Neapolitan Nights," which was also enjoyed, Phillips being accompanied by the band for both songs.

Characteristically accented, brief staccato rhythms of the classic "The Turkish March" from Beethoven's "Ruins of Athens" lent a note of novelty, the tinkle of triangle making silvery background for the characteristic monotony of the constantly-reiterated basic theme.

Especially well-liked was a mellow-toned trombone solo, "My Hope" (Liberty) given by Director Clanton, ever in demand in the role of soloist. Continued applause brought as response rendition of the tender Irish "Mother Machree," soft background of accompaniment furnished by the band for both solos.

A colorful arrangement of favorite themes from Victor Herbert's romantic light opera, "The Fortune Teller," won warm response, the buoyant work offered in finished manner, instrumentation smoothly co-ordinated, and Herbert's characteristic wealth of melody outlined in familiar themes, including the "Little Gypsy Sweetheart," its tender sweetness contrasted in a vigorously accelerated finale.

Never-failing in appeal, the favorite "Blue Danube Waltz" (Strauss) brought to a melodious conclusion this enjoyable initial program of the band's summer series concerning which plans were outlined by Harry Hanson, president and manager of the organization during the course of the evening.

Programs will open promptly at 7:30 each Thursday evening during the summer months. Robert Brown, local baritone, will be heard in the role of soloist at next week's program.

Calvin Coolidge Says

By CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States
NORTHAMPTON, June 19.—No one who has not tried it or been very close to it can understand how difficult it is for a president to travel about the country. While he is in Washington he is surrounded by certain safeguards and given reasonable protection. As soon as he leaves the capital city he loses control of the situation and finds himself at the mercy of circumstance. Every shred of privacy vanishes and he stands all the time in the full glare of the most intense publicity.

Usually his purpose is to attend some public function and deliver an address. No doubt such contacts are useful and even necessary in a republic. The people like to see their president and are almost universally considerate, respectful, and enthusiastic in the reception they give him. But the benefit is to the people rather than the president. He sees and hears little he did not already know.

The chief value lies in the public impression that is created. The picture of the president of a great country mingling with his fellow citizens, telling them his problems, sympathizing with their difficulties, broaching plans for their welfare, gives us a better realization that this is our government.

SEEK INJUNCTION AGAINST TRANSPORTING WATER FROM WATERSHED IN SUIT ON FILE

Asking an injunction against pumping water from the Santa Ana river basin and transporting it outside the watershed, a suit was filed in superior court today directed against the Irvine company, Laguna Beach county water district, city of Newport Beach, Fairview Farms Water company and the Newport Mesa Irrigation district.

Plaintiffs, who include the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company, Anaheim Union Water company, cities of Fullerton and Anaheim and a group of Orange county ranchers, assert that the defendants are transporting from the basin and outside of the watershed, 975 miners' inches continuous flow of water, which is needed to maintain decreasing water table levels to keep out infiltration of salt water into the entire underground basin.

Suit Anticipated
The suit, which has long been anticipated, charges that the Irvine company and the Laguna Beach district have been pumping from the basin for less than five years, but does not state how long the other defendants have been pumping from the basin.

List Water Amounts
The amounts of water which it is claimed are being pumped and transported out of the watershed are as follows: Irvine company, 375 miners' inches; Laguna Beach county water district, 150 miners' inches; Newport Beach, 200 miners' inches; Fairview Farms Water company and Newport Mesa Irrigation district, each 125 miners' inches.

Allege Depletion
The defendants are pumping from lands they own in the lower end of the basin, according to the complaint, and taking the water to points outside the watershed, where it cannot return to the basin from which it is being taken. It is alleged that by pumping, diverting and transporting the water the defendants are depleting the body of percolating water in the lower end of the basin in a constantly increasing amount, lowering the level thereof and depriving the plaintiffs of their property rights in the common water underlying their lands the right to the use thereof.

It is stated that running parallel with the shoreline of the Pacific ocean and at right angles to the Santa Ana river and water basin, at a distance of from one-half to three-quarters of a mile inland from the ocean, is an impervious barrier preventing seepage or percolation of waters, but that it lies 200 feet below the surface of the ground and that above it is material which freely allows penetration of water and that infiltration of salt water from the ocean is only prevented from percolating this overlying material and gaining access to the entire basin because of the pressure of fresh water which is now at levels greater than the salt water levels.

Water Plane Lowered
The claim is set forth that by reason of the large amount of water being abstracted from the basin by the overlying land owners and more particularly by reason of the large amounts withdrawn away from the basin, the water plane has materially lowered and unless the abstraction of water by the defendants and transportation to points outside the watershed immediately ceases, the water plane particularly at the lower end of the basin, will descend to elevations below sea level. This, it is asserted, will allow and cause infiltration of sea water and cause the entire basin to become salt and unfit for domestic or irrigation uses.

LIONS INSTALL RAY ADKINSON, NEW PRESIDENT

Looking forward to the coming year as the most important year of its existence, the Santa Ana Lions club last evening installed its newly elected officers, while members of the club re-dedicated themselves to the ideals of service upon which Lions International was founded.

The installation party was staged at the Pacific Coast club in Long Beach, with a hundred Lions and their wives in attendance to participate in the event. In his closing address, Homer C. Chaney, the retiring president, paid tribute to the co-operation he has had from the committee chairmen of the club, and the good fellowship which has prevailed, and he recounted the accomplishments of the club during the past year.

Adkinson Seated
As president of the club, Chaney is succeeded by Ray Adkinson, who last fall was elected by the people of Orange county as superintendent of the county schools. A peculiar feature of the event was that while both Adkinson and Chaney were students at Pomona college, Adkinson preceded Chaney as track captain and also as student body president.

Others of the new officers include Carson Smith, first vice president; Al Mellenthin, second vice president; W. K. Hillyard, third vice president; E. M. Sundquist, secretary (re-elected); Lynn Hart, treasurer; Joe Peterson, lion tamer; Frank Purinton, tall twister; and Gar C. Ross and C. E. Stewart, directors.

Chaney Officials
The installation was conducted by Lion Chaney of the Long Beach den, and was followed by an inspirational address by Lion Rev. Shirley Shaw of the Ontario club.

Activities of Lionism for the fourth district, which includes California, Nevada and Hawaii, will center in Santa Ana for the coming year, through the election of Dr. Elliott Rowland as district governor, who will preside at the next annual district convention to be held next May in Los Angeles, where also the international convention may be held. The Santa Ana club is supporting the new district governor 100 per cent, it is declared, and will be registered in the last man at the Los Angeles convention, and all activities of the year will eliminate in that crowning event.

SUIT BACKFIRES, DEFENDANT WINS

The damage action filed by H. H. Harris against Swend Carlson, et al, in which the plaintiff asked the court for a judgment of $27,500 as damages accruing to him as a result of an auto accident which he declared was the fault of the defendants, proved a boomerang, when judgment of $16,660.39 for the defendants on their cross complaint was announced Wednesday by Judge J. L. Allen at conclusion of the trial.

Carlson and his wife had filed cross complaints asking judgments totaling $84,644.95, asserting that the accident, which occurred last January on the West Seventeenth street road about one mile west of the Garden Grove road, was due to the negligence and carelessness of the plaintiff and was not their fault.

The camp membership also voted to participate in a reception planned at Long Beach for Commander-in-Chief Edward E. Matthias. This banquet and reception is being sponsored by McKinley camp No. 23 and Long Beach camp and will include a reception to National President Edith Bird, of the National Auxiliary.

their deaths from "injuries received when the car in which in which they were riding collided with a car driven by Mrs. Guy Mumy."

Husband Testifies
Edens was one of the principal witnesses before the jury. He claimed that the Mumy car struck his car, causing it to collide with a tree. Mrs. Mumy also testified, but declared that her machine did not hit the Edens machine.

Mr. and Mrs. Edens, who live at 207 Agate street, Balboa, were taking their visitor to see Riverside at the time of the accident.

Double Inquest
Coroner Charles D. Brown will hold a double inquest this afternoon over the bodies of Fred Bastady, 60, of Buena Park, and Hans Graf, 42, of Atwood, killed early Wednesday night when their machine tumbled over a 200 foot embankment at Sulphur Slide, in Santa Ana Canyon. Bastady was instantly killed and Graf lived only a few minutes.

Their bodies are at the Santa Undertaking parlors in Fullerton, where the inquest will be held. The Bastady machine went over the embankment after it had attempted to dodge a truck on the high grade. A 13-year-old son of Bastady's escaped injury.

CITY SCHOOL BOARD ACTS TO ELIMINATE DUST NUISANCE ON PLAYGROUND AT JUNIOR HIGH

Treatment of the new Willard junior high school playground with material to keep down the dust has been determined upon by the Santa Ana board of education.

Dust from playgrounds of schools has long been a problem as complaints from residents living near various schools have often been placed before the board. Considerable study has been made of the problem and the board has decided to make its initial experiment in control at the Willard plant.

Use New Material
A material developed by the American Bitumuls company is to be used in the experiment. It was announced by George Wells, president of the board. It is an emulsified, penetrating substance with an asphaltic base, which it is asserted will not track into buildings nor damage clothing. The plan calls for use of two coats at a cost of approximately $450.

Board members are making this experiment with the idea in mind of extending it to other playgrounds in the future. The action was taken at the board meeting this week on a motion by Rolla Hays, seconded by Marion Youel.

Other action taken at the meeting included rental of the high school auditorium to the American Legion drum corps; leasing of tennis courts at the old Willard site to the Y. W. C. A.; a discussion of liability insurance covering school property and a discussion of the progress of the accounting survey.

Plan Benefit

The drum corps was granted the use of the auditorium for June 25 at the request of William Iverson, business manager of the organization, who said they planned to stage a benefit performance to secure funds for new uniforms. The regular fee of $35 was included in the agreement.

Two tennis courts at the old Willard building on North Main street were leased to the Y. W. C. A. at a fee of $12 yearly, granting the association right to use the courts on Monday and Wednesday evenings from five until six o'clock.

Dr. Percy R. Davis, assistant superintendent of schools, advised the board that the last legislature had passed a bill making it possible for school districts to carry liability insurance and he recommended that some be secured to cover accidents which might occur on school property. Business Manager George Newcom was instructed to make an investigation concerning coverage and rates.

Discuss Survey

The survey of accounting now being used to handle district funds and determine costs, which was authorized by the board on May 13, was also discussed. This survey is being conducted by the R. D. Crenshaw company, which desired to know if the board wanted the investigation to extend over any period back of last July 1. The committee on this survey, headed by Rolla Hays, was instructed to take the matter up with Crenshaw. Crenshaw had advised the board before the work was undertaken that it would probably be completed in 15 or 20 days.

The board also elected one new teacher on the recommendation of Dr. Davis, selecting Robert J. Parker to fill the vacancy caused by the years leave of absence which the board has granted to Leon I. McMullen. Parker will teach history, civics and assist in physical education work at the high school.

LATE GAS COMPANY OFFICIAL HONORED

A tribute to the memory and the accomplishments of C. H. Dickey, for many years first vice president of Southern Counties Gas company, was paid today by C. E. Rutledge, district manager for the company in this section of Southern California.

"Few men have been privileged to accomplish so much in the industrial development of the United States as was the case with Mr. Dickey," said Rutledge. "For many years he was president of the American Meter company, with headquarters in Baltimore. He was active in the affairs of the American Gas Association and was a moving spirit in the American Gas and Light association back in the earlier years of the industry."

"He came to California in 1912 and at that time was made a director of Southern Counties Gas company. The following year he was elected first vice president and has been a vice president of the company since 1913. He was also a vice president of Pacific Lighting Corporation and was actively interested in the many utility projects financed by that company. He served as president of the Pacific Coast Gas association in 1928-29 and established thousands of business and personal friendships throughout this entire section of the country."

Late News From Orange And Nearby Town

AVIATION DATA PRESENTED AT LIONS SESSION

ORANGE, June 19.—C. D. Smalley, head of the publicity department of the American Airways company, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Lions club at the American Legion clubhouse. Smalley was introduced by Jack Lambert, who was program chairman. The speaker told many interesting facts concerning Lindbergh's flight across the Pacific. An invention which has made ocean flying less hazardous was described as a boat which is folded in a compact bundle and which is carried on the tail of the ship. If the ship ceases to function the boat is loosened from the plane before it strikes the water and an automatic compressor pump begins to operate in blowing up the boat, the speaker stated.

In speaking of the new autogiro used by Amelia Earhart, Smalley said that this type of plane was the greatest departure made in airplane construction since the time of the Wright brothers. He told of seeing the plane in action and Miss Earhart making a vertical descent with a perfect landing. While the plane is one of the safest crafts used in flying, at present it is more of a sports craft than a practical craft for flying, the speaker stated, as it can only attain a speed of about 40 miles an hour.

A detailed report of the J. E. Riley and the trophy received by Gordon K. Richmond for winning the state oratorical contest was displayed. The trophy is a handsome marble plaque on which is mounted the figure of a lion. Charles W. Coffey reported that 14 members of the Orange club had attended the county council meeting at Garden Grove, the club having the largest percentage of members present of any club in the county.

Lions Paul Wallace and Victor Walker of Santa Ana were present.

MISSION WORK DESCRIBED FOR CHURCH GROUP

ORANGE, June 19.—Miss Laura Starkey, of Oakland, superintendent of student nurses at Ming Quong Presbyterian mission, gave a talk on the Allison James mission in New Mexico, where she was located for 10 years, before members of the Missionary society of the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. R. W. Jones told of the work among the Indians at Tucson, Ariz.

Miss Flo Scarritt presided at the business session with Mrs. Ethel Naneite secretary pro tem. Mrs. Robert B. McCauley led in the devotionals bringing out the thought of a spiritual reserve to draw upon at times of crises. She also spoke of reserve of health, not overdoing in the everyday activities of life but keeping a reserve of strength to meet any crisis that may come.

Miss Laura Starkey told of the Allison James school at Santa Fe. The government of the school is under the student volunteer movement. The homes of the natives have two rooms with a hall between. The missionaries are given the room containing the beds when they have occasion to stay overnight and the family moves to the hall. Miss Starkey said she wondered how comfortable they could make themselves on the ground floor of the hall but after a night spent in their beds, which are made of slats upon boxes covered with a straw tick with a clean rag carpet for a cover, she realized there was not much difference.

Miss Starkey said that the homes of the graduates of the school could be known through New Mexico by the changed condition in the homes where screens were put on the windows, the water was boiled if taken from open ditches, and the babies were not given beans and chili.

Miss Starkey told of the mission among Chinese girls at Nanquin, San Francisco. Capt. Robert Dollar gave a location for a home in Oakland and the Sage Memorial fund made possible the erection of the building and now from 61 to 65 Chinese girls are in that home.

Mrs. Donald Smiley read a letter from Mrs. Alice Lewis, the missionary from the local Presbyterian church in China in which the missionary pictured the difficulties of travel in China and the difficulty of talking with those speaking other dialects.

Mrs. R. W. Jones spoke of the 200,000 Indians in the United States, 50,000 of whom are located in Arizona. The Indian school has graduated 1800 in the 40 years of its existence. At the present time 180 are enrolled in the school. The buildings are located on 160 acres of ground, 60 of which are under cultivation. There is a fine swimming pool and the students are now building a bakery.

YOUTH'S PAGEANT STAGED AT TORONTO W. C. T. U. CONCLAVE OUTLINED BY LOCAL DELEGATE

Perhaps the greatest gathering of women prohibition workers ever held was the recent World convention of the W. C. T. U. at Toronto, Canada. Orange county was represented among delegates from all parts of the world. Mrs. Pearl Kendall Hess, of Orange, who represented this county, has written a local worker an account of the sessions.

Included in the account was a year's-over $520,000,000. Liquor controls Quebec.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Following Quebec's lead we tried our hand at helping out the Breweries and Distilleries and June 15, 1931, we started in as their selling partners.

We haven't so many Distilleries as Quebec, so far we have only 4, but we have more Breweries. We have 12.

Our Government sells spirits and wines in unlimited quantities in 75 stores.

You can buy unlimited quantities of beer by the glass in 307 beer parlors.

Please note we do not call them saloons any more, nor do we call them taverns like Quebec. Ours are beer parlors or John Barleycorn's School for Beginners.

Sixty-six Clubs have been granted licenses for beer only, but the members own liquor may be served. Three hundred and ninety-six of our Liquor selling places are not owned or operated by the Government.

Our drink bill has increased enormously from 61-3 millions in first 9 months to over 191-2 millions last year. In 9 years we have doubled our sales and our total for that time is nearly $122,000,000.

Note our public debt in dry 1920 was a little over 34 millions. After 3 years Government Control it increased to nearly 69 millions, and the Finance Minister recently announced that on November 1, 1930, the debt of British Columbia had climbed to over $102,000,000. British Columbia is learning that a Province cannot drink itself out of debt.

QUEBEC

We were the first and might be called the leaders of Liquor Control of Government, or Government Control (so-called) in Quebec.

We now have 10 distilleries and 9 breweries licensed to do business.

We advertise the various brands by radio, the daily press, gigantic electrical and other signs.

The Government sells all kinds of liquors in 104 Cash and Carry stores.

We sell unlimited quantities of wine and beer in 708 hotels and restaurants.

We sell beer by the glass in unlimited quantities in 620 saloons.

Beer by the bottle in 1,554 grocery stores and butcher shops, besides 88 other various agencies.

One hundred and forty-eight Clubs have been granted licenses. And you don't have to have a permit to buy any of it.

Altogether we have 3,340 liquor selling places.

Our sales have risen from in 1921-22, over $46,000,000 to 1929-30, over $75,000,000.

Total sales since 1921-nine

MANITOBA

After watching Quebec and British Columbia sell liquors the Manitoba Government decided to go into the Control business and in August, 1923, they put up their signs.

They now sell the output of the local 8 Breweries and 2 Distilleries as well as imported stocks in their 13 Government owned General Boozie shops, and through 9 Brewing agencies, 217 privately owned Beer Parlors for beer by the glass, 34 private clubs and 17 other agencies.

The Act provides that the holder of a general $1.00 permit shall not purchase in one day more than 2 gallons beer, 1 gallon wine and 1 quart spirits.

If, however, you are giving a banquet you may obtain for a $2.00 permit much greater quantities.

There is no such thing as control once the cork is out of the bottle or keg.

Our sales have increased in six years under this Control from 71-3 millions to (1929-30) over 101-2 millions. A grand six year total of over $48,000,000. The tragic depression of the last year did not affect the Government Boozie sale.

ALBERTA

The Moderationists' cry that if the people had free access to beer it would reduce consumption of spirituous liquors is not borne out by the facts of the case in Alberta.

Today you may buy unlimited spirits, unlimited beer and unlimited wine.

We have 34 Government Cash and Carry Stores where we sell over 200 brands of liquor dispensed by Government salesmen. Incidentally the best organized sales force for the Trade.

Three hundred and seventy-eight parlor saloons where we sell beer by the glass without permit. 47 Clubs have license to sell. The Golf Clubs have Sunday selling privileges.

Fifteen canteens and 6 Breweries and 17 other agencies have license to sell.

Altogether with a population of 646,000 we sell liquor in 481 places and permits to buy were issued to over 43,000 persons.

Bootlegging contrary to promises has not decreased and the unfortunate interdict because he is publicly listed seems to be the logical prey. The falsely named Control System has doubled our sales in 6 years since May, 1924, from a little over 7 million to last year nearly 15 million. Total over $74,000,000.

(The second article will appear tomorrow.)

N.Y. ACTOR. WIFE REWED HERE TO MAKE CERTAIN

To strengthen marriage vows taken a year ago in an eastern city, William Clark Gable, actor, and the former Mrs. M. Franklin Langham, of New York, today were married before Justice of the Peace Kenneth L. Morrison.

Mrs. Gable said that she married the actor on March 30, 1930, in an eastern city which she would not name.

At that time, she said, Gable's divorce decree in California had not become final. It was anticipated that this would make no difference to their marriage vows, however, as they planned to live in the east.

Since then, Mrs. Gable said, her husband came to Hollywood and both planned to make their home there. On the advice of counsel they decided to remarry as they were acquiring community property.

Mrs. Gable said she was a New York divorcee and had lived at 140 East 81st street, New York, with a son and daughter three years ago.

Gable is a product of the New York stage. He came here to make his debut in motion pictures opposite Greta Garbo. He graduated from the Akron, O., university and went direct to vaudeville, later to become a successful New York stage actor.

Conduct Funeral Of Mrs. Post, 87

ORANGE, June 19.—Funeral services for Mrs. Cordelia A. Post, 87, were held yesterday at the Coffey Funeral parlors. Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, of the Presbyterian church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. W. L. Pearson.

"Sometime We'll Understand" and "In the City" were sung by Mrs. Charles B. Harper, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Frances Harper.

The body was sent to Russell, Iowa, her old home, for burial.

Mrs. Post had been a resident of Orange for 13 years and leaves two daughters here, Mrs. J. B. Doan and Miss Flora Mabel Post, and three sons, two of whom live in Russell, Iowa, and one in Florida.

She was a member of the local Presbyterian church and a life member of the W. C. T. U.

Party Observes Fifth Birthday

ORANGE, June 19.—Mrs. Earl C. Hobbs, of 237 North Pine street, entertained yesterday afternoon honoring her son, Bobby, on his fifth birthday. The boys played games and frolicked on the spacious back lawn.

The refreshments were served on the garden table which was adorned with pink and white favors, nut cups of pink rosebuds and the central attraction a large birthday cake aglow with candles, with tall pink tapers at either side. Candies and ice cream in pink and white molds was served with the cake.

Sand Is Thrown On New Paint Job

NEWPORT BEACH, June 18.—C. R. Buttle, Orange, asked the Newport Beach police department to help him find and properly punish the meanest man in the bay district. Buttle pulled his boat up on the beach by the pier and blocked it up and spent long hours painting it. The job completed and the twilight hour arriving, he went back to his home near Orange.

The next day he came down to inspect his boat. Beach sand had been sprinkled all over the wet paint from stern to stern of the boat and the paint job was ruined. Furthermore, removing paint that had been thoroughly sanded is a difficult job.

CHINESE HERBS

THE ROAD TO HEALTH

CHINESE HERBS have stood the test for centuries. They cured more ailments of men and women than all modern treatments. ALL ailments, no matter of what nature, no matter how many different medicines you have tried without results. We will relieve you quickly and permanently with our wonderful, herbal remedies. Remedies that will assist nature in removing the poisons from your system and gradually rebuild the wasted tissue.

The action of Chinese herbs is entirely different from anything you have taken before, and entirely unfamiliar to most American people. They quietly and stealthily creep through the meshes of your tissues, while you are working and while you are sleeping. Like friendly spirits they steal into the dark corners of human anatomy to expel the noxiousness of disease and like good fairies, they always leave happiness in their wake.

ROBBERS' ROOST

by ZANE GREY

INSTALLMENT 17

After breakfast Hays led his men, except Latimer, up through the west outlet, from which they climbed to the highest point in the vicinity. Every point of the green hole was in plain sight. Every approach to it, even that down the dark gully, lay exposed.

Brad Lincoln said sarcastically: "So you been savin' this roost for your old age?"

Then Jim put in his quiet opinion: "A band of men could hang 'em!" Slocum let out a single out here for twenty years—unless they fought among themselves."

sharp exclamation.

They left Jim on the bluff to keep the first watch.

Jim had Miss Herrick's word as to the amount taken from her. It was a certainty that Hays had also robbed her brother. But he had not reported the truth as to amount; and this was another singular proof of the disintegration of the chief's character.

In all likelihood Sparrowhawk Latimer was aware of this omission on the chief's part. Probably he had been bribed to keep his mouth shut. Whatever there was to learn Jim meant to learn.

While his thoughts ran in this fashion, skipping from one aspect to another, Jim's keen manipulation of the field glass followed suit. And after each survey he would shift the glass back to the oval bowl where the robbers were at work.

Some were carrying water, brush, stones, while others were digging postholes. Hays began to lay a square fireplace of flat stones. The stone, sand, water were fetched to him, but he did the building himself. An hour or so after the start the square grate appeared to be completed, and the chimney was going up. Four cottonwoods formed the four corner posts of the shack. Poles of the same wood were laid across for beams. Probably Hays would construct a roof of brush, and give it pitch enough so that it would shed water.

Three times Hays left off work to walk across the green to the tent where Miss Herrick kept herself. No doubt the robber called to her. The third time he peeped in.

But Hays did not attempt to enter the tent. Then Hays retraced his steps back to the job.

Long after noonday, and when Jim had spent at least six hours on watch, Jeff Bridges detached himself from his comrades and laboriously made his way up the long slope to the bluff, upon which Jim was stationed.

Jim relinquished the glass and his seat to Bridges. He made his way leisurely down off the smooth red ledges to the slope, and eventually to the valley floor. Jim drew his gun, and selecting a favorable shot he put out the eye of a rabbit; and presently he repeated the performance. With the rabbits dangling one from each hand, he turned into the oval, amused to find not a single man in sight. They had heard his shots and had taken to cover.

As he approached, one by one they reappeared.

"Huh! You scared us," declared Hays forcibly.

"Young rabbit for supper won't go bad," rejoined Jim.

"They shore won't," agreed Smoky. "Lemme see, Jim." He took the rabbits and examined them.

"Look ahyar, Brad. He shot the eye out of both of them."

"Durned if he didn't," said Brad, enthusiastically. "How far away, Jim?"

"I didn't step off. Reckon one was about twenty paces and the other farther," returned Jim, stretching the truth a little. He knew such men, how their morbid minds centered about certain things.

"Hank, for Gawd's sake don't let's give Jim Wall a chance to shoot at us!" ejaculated Smoky, with a loud laugh.

"We don't want Jim shootin' at us any more'n he wants us shootin' at him."

"Jim, take a snack of grub, an' then come to work with us," said Hays.

While they were at it Smoky suggested they erect a sun and rain shelter for the prisoner. Hays consented with a bad grace. So before dark they built one for Miss Herrick that would add materially to her comfort.

"Reckon this cottonwood grove is her private grounds, fella," added Smoky. "It ain't no fault of our'n if this girl is hyar. But since she is, we'll see she gets treated like a lady."

That was strong speech, yet passed over by Hays.

A tiny stream ran out from under the trees. Jim banked it up with clean red rocks, forming a fine little pool of clear cold water. Smoky, deftly fashioned a rude armchair, which, when covered with saddle blankets, made an acceptable chair. Hays, not to be wholly outdone, cut and carried a great armload of ferns.

"Come out, miss," he called into the tent.

Helen emerged, her eyes suspiciously red, but that did not mar the flash of them.

"Hays, am I to gather from this kindly service that my stay here will be indefinite?" she queried.

"Wal, it looks like that."

"You can send Jim Wall and another of your men back to Star Ranch. I'll write a letter to my brother to pay and ask no questions or make no moves."

"Shore, I reckon Jim would go. It's easy to see that. But none of my regular men would risk it," returned Hays.

"There's a better way, Hank," spoke up Smoky. "Send Jim an' me back with the girl. If she'll promise it we'll get the money."

"I give my word," swiftly agreed Miss Herrick.

"When it suits me—which is when it's safe to send for that ransom money—I'll do it an' not before."

Hays stalked away toward the cook shelter.

"You—what's your name?" she asked, turned to Smoky.

"Wal, you can call me Smoky," drawled that worthy.

"Jim has made you a friend—to help me?"

"I reckon so, but for Gawd's sake don't talk so loud. Try to savvy this deal, an' what's your part in it."

Smoky wheeled to his task as Hays strode back into earshot.

Miss Herrick entered her tent, and after that little more was spoken between the men, and presently, at Hays' suggestion, they quit for the day.

"What you bunkin', Smoky?" inquired Hays.

"Under the cliff with Sparrow. That poor devil needs nursin'."

"Jim, what you sleepin'?"

"There's my bed and pack and saddle," replied Wall, pointing. "I'll leave them there till it rains."

Hays made no comment. They repaired to Happy Jack's shelter and to their evening meal. Later by the light of the campfire Jim saw Helen come out of her tent to walk up and down in the dusk. And she got nearly as far as where Jim's things lay in the lee of a low shelf.

Darkness soon settled down, and with it the robbers, worn out with their labors, stayed up long enough to see Hays stretch in his blankets under Happy's shelter.

The next day was like the preceding, with its camp tasks and improvements, the guard duty, attendance upon Sparrow, and the universal if covert observance of Miss Herrick. To do her credit she kept out of her tent, ate, exercised, and watched with great anxious eyes that haunted Jim.

After that day after day, full of watching and suspense for Jim, wore on.

The seventh day, during the heat of the afternoon, Jim was on the lookout from the bluff with his friend glass.

When he returned, Smoky came to meet him.

"Sparrow's been askin' for you," he said, moodily. "I'm afeared he's lots wuss."

When Jim bent over the wasted Latimer it was indeed to feel a cold apprehension.

"What is it, Sparrow? I've been on watch," said Jim.

"Am I a-goin' to croak?" queried Latimer, calmly.

"You've a fighting chance, Sparrow."

"Wal, I've been shot before. But I never had this queer feelin'—Now, Jim, if I git to sinkin' don't keep me from knowin'. If I'm dyin' I want to tell you and Smoky somethin' that I'd keep if I lived. Savvy?"

"Sparrow, I couldn't honestly ask for that confession yet," replied Jim. "You might pull through. But I promise you, and I'm shaking your hand on it."

"Good. That eases my mind."

On the walk across the oval Smoky said very seriously: "Jim, I reckon we better have Sparrow tell us tomorrow—whatever he has on his chest. That is, if we want to know it. Do you?"

"I sure do, Smoky. If it's somethin' Latimer must confess it's somethin' we ought to know."

That night Jim moved his bed closer to the grove, farther from the campfire, and it commanded a view of the rise of ground where anyone passing could be detected above the horizon. Even after he had crawled under his blankets he watched.

But nothing passed. The hours wore on until the utter loneliness of the deep pit weighed heavily upon Jim's oppressed breast.

He fell asleep and dreamed that he was riding a gigantic black horse with eyes of fire, and that there was a white flower growing out from a precipice, and in a strange, reckless desire to pluck it he fell into the abyss. Down, down he plunged into blackness. And suddenly a piercing, terrible cry rose from the depths.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAI COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK

The mountain pathway wound around and soon the band of Tins found that Mister Travel Man was right. The climb was quite a task. Poor Clowzy finally stopped and cried, "I have a stitch in my side. Please let me sit right down and rest a while. That's all I ask."

The Travel Man just smiled. Said he, "Well, lad, you look worn out to me. Or else, perhaps you're lazy, but we'll join you in a rest. There is no rush in our ascent and, after all, we're pleasure bent. We'll loaf here in the sunshine for half an hour. It's best."

Then, when the half an hour was over they started on their way once more. For hours they slowly hiked along, course halting now and then. At last the mountain top was reached and Clowzy very loudly screamed, "The scenery is wonderful! Let's roll right down again."

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Copy, "You expect that we'd do that and all I've wrecked? Oh, no! I much prefer to walk, when everyone is set." When all there was to see was spied, they went back down the mountain side. Said Clowzy, "Going down's a cinch. This is the best part, yet."

That afternoon they took a train for Tokio and once again the Tins found a lovely town. "I like this place," said one. "The slanting house roofs spread around are quite the quaintest we have found. I have a hunch, before we leave, we'll have a lot of fun."

Then merry voices filled the air and Copy shouted, "Well, look there! Those little Jap boys play baseball just like we do at home. Right now I'm more than glad we came. Perhaps they'll let us in the game. It seems that baseball's popular, no matter where we roam." (Copyright, 1931, NEA Service, Inc.)

(The Tinsymites have some more fun with Jap youngsters in the next story.)

OPENING SET FOR SATURDAY

Workmen are putting the finishing touches to the chromium plate and tile fixtures while clerks are busily preparing the meat and vegetable stocks for the gala opening Saturday of the William H. Rash Food market, 314 West Fourth street. This store, according to Rash, will be the third in a chain of stores that are in the process of establishment. Store No. 1 is in Santa Ana, No. 2 in Fullerton and the new establishment will be the third.

The opening Saturday will feature only the meat and vegetable departments due to the inability of workmen to complete installation of fixtures for the grocery department this week. The grocery department, which to date is a mystery angle to the new store, will be formally opened on June 27.

Identity of the head of the grocery department is not being revealed until the opening date, Rash said today. He did say, however, that the operator of this department is connected with a chain of stores operating in Orange county.

Stanley Jost, formerly connected with both the Safeway and Alpha Beta stores, has been selected to take charge of the vegetable department. Rash will be directly in charge of the meat market with George Hammond as head meat cutter and W. A. Patterson, who formerly worked for Bergman and Obar here and later operated a shop in Long Beach.

Rash is well known in Santa Ana and Orange county, having lived here since 1913. He has been actively engaged in the butcher business since 1915, when he went to work for Bergman and Obar when they operated their market at Fourth and Broadway. When Obar bought out his partner Rash remained, as he did through successive ownerships that made the market the property of Guy Richards and Arnold F. Peck, operator of Peck's Market, 409 North Broadway.

When Peck took the market over Rash became head meat cutter until 1929, when he joined R. H. Baker. Later he became special meat cutter for the Safeway store, when he resigned to enter business for himself.

Offering a service to other business houses in Santa Ana that has been a long felt necessity, Rash has leased the basement of his new store building to an organization that will specialize in servicing ice machines.

The highest quality merchandise at the lowest possible price and perfect service will be featured at the new store, according to Rash. In the market Hauser's Pride baby beef will be handled exclusively and merchandise of similar quality will be featured in all departments.

Stars Face Olive In Closing Game Of First Half

SECOND PLACE PACKERS' AIM IN BOWL PLAY

Santa Ana and Olive, the one-two teams of the race, close the first half of the National Night league's 1931 baseball schedule here tonight with a game of more than ordinary importance for a "get-away day."

Although Santa Ana long since clinched the pennant, Olive still has a fight on its hands to preserve undisputed possession of second place from Huntington Beach, Whittier and Anaheim, so Guy Means will have his green-jacketed Packers aiming high and hard.

Olive will catch the champions crippled and worried and, while sometimes that is bad medicine for a challenger because a real champion can fight his way out of a corner, the visitors will not be a bad short-end bet. They are good enough to extend Santa Ana under any set of conditions.

Wilcox, Nelson Out of Lineup
"Benny" Wilcox, easily the ranking catcher in the league, and Wayne Nelson, a fine outfielder, are both on the Stars' hospital list and it is problematical whether they will see service again. Wilcox's severe eye cut, sustained at Westminster Tuesday, is sure to keep him inactive a couple of weeks. Nelson aggravated an old shoulder injury at Riverside Wednesday. His throwing arm is so sore he may be out of the lineup several weeks. The roster is depleted still further by the transfer of Substitute John Lutz to Garden Grove in exchange for Joe Mene, a fleet outfielder, who will not report, however, until the beginning of the fourth quarter.

In their hour of distress, the Stars have coaxed out of retirement their veteran coach, Bill Cole.

The huge first baseman of last year's pennant winners wanted to be on the reserve list this summer but with Wilcox and Nelson out of the game indefinitely he responded to the s. o. s. of the team he managed early in 1930. With First Baseman Ed Daley "batting" for Wilcox as catcher and Lutz traded away, there was nobody else available to play the first sack. Cole hasn't looked at any pitching this year but will be as dangerous as ever at bat after a few games. If "Big Bill" remains on the playing squad the rest of the season it is probable that Manager George Lackaye will shift Ed Daley to an outfield post when Wilcox is back on the job. Daley is primarily a flycatcher anyway.

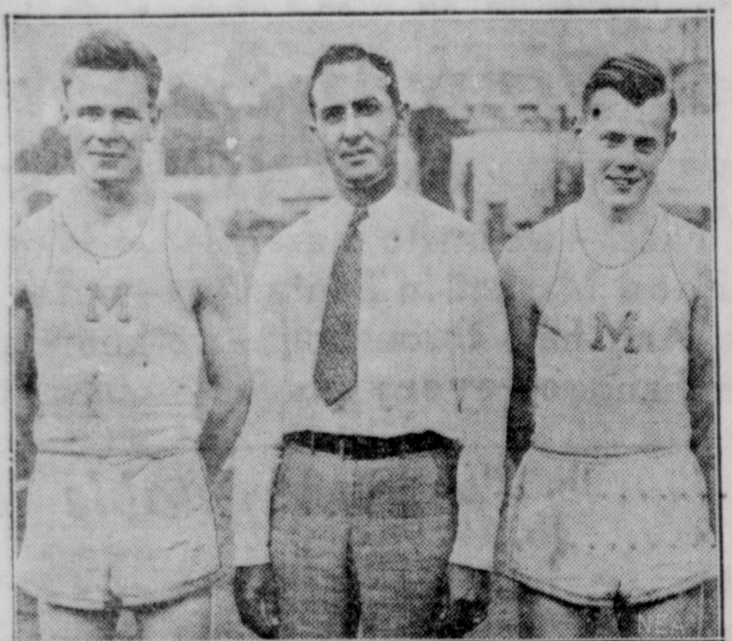

Cornelius, Heman To Pitch
Joe Cornelius, especially primed for the assignment, pitches for the Stars tonight. Daley will catch, with Cole at first base, Ray Smith at second, Darwin Scott third and "Memphry" Hill, playing the steady ball of his career, at shortstop. Randolph Bell will be in left field, Leavitt Daley center and "Boss" Mene right.

Rudy Heman, Olive's fine curveball expert, will hurl for the Packers. "Hen" Thiers, a Tustin high school youngster who has loads of promise, is catching Heman now. Either Sweet or Peterson will play first, "Chisel" Hatfield second, Terry Griffith third and "Shorty" Thomas short. The Olive outfielders are Fritz Gunther, Jerry Heard and Shell. Reserves include Collins, Turry and Blakely.

Huntington Beach and Whittier, two of Olive's warmest rivals for

NATIONAL PREP CHAMPIONS

Willowick Golf Players To Face Long Beach Team

Willowick golfers will oppose a squad from Long Beach municipal links in an inter-city team match at Willowick Sunday. Play will begin at 1 p. m. Willowick players being asked to report shortly after 12 o'clock.

The Willowick lineup will be chosen from the following players: Frank Angell, J. W. Evans, Ralph Gray, Ben Manker, B. J. Morey, F. Osborn, Raymond Chapman, R. F. Campbell, Dick Ewert, Raymond Couch and Harold Shiver.

CORBETT'S VICTORY OVER GRACE BOOED

HOLLYWOOD, June 19.—(UP)—Young Corbett, Fresno southpaw welterweight, counter-punched his way to an unpopular decision over Meyer Grace, of Philadelphia, in a 10-round main event at the Hollywood American Legion stadium last night.

Although Corbett outpointed Grace in five rounds and held him even in the others, the fans liked Grace's aggressiveness and booed Referee Abe Roth's decision.

The fighting was fast and furious, especially in the late rounds. Corbett weighed 145 and Grace 147.

Hagen Sets Pace In Western Open

DAYTON, O., June 19.—(UP)—Out of exile came Walter Hagen, and today at the start of the second 18-hole flight the veteran Detroit golfer was leading in the 1931 Western Open championship with a record breaking 68 for the opening round.

As the field of champions teed off for the second round over the Miami Valley Country club course Hagen was one stroke up on Ed Dudley, the tall driver from Concordille, Pa.

WALKER QUILTS 'MIDDLES' FOR SHARKEY BOUT?

NEW YORK, June 19.—(INS)—Mickey Walker will walk in on the boxing commission today and surrender his middleweight title for the privilege of fighting Jack Sharkey for the benefit of the milk fund show at Ebbets field next month.

After the meeting Sharkey and Walker, in person, will sign for what is expected to be one of the greatest drawing cards of the year.

MATE IS FAVORITE IN AMERICAN DERBY

HOMERIDGE, Ill., June 19.—(UP)—Fifteen three-year-olds, comprising 14 colts and a filly, were named today for the $50,000 added American Derby, to be run at Washington park tomorrow.

The east held a strong hand with Mate, Ladder and Sun Meadow and turfmen believed the west would have little share in the rich purse.

Despite the absence of Twenty Grand, Kentucky Derby winner, the field was of exceptional class and an excellent race was promised. The track probably will be lightning fast.

Mate, victor over Twenty Grand in the Preckness, was reported in good condition and the A. C. Bostwick colt undoubtedly will go to the post a favorite.

MRS. FOOTE WINNER OF WOMEN'S GOLF

Mrs. W. W. Foote, wife of Bill Foote, athletic coach, won Class A medal play golf sweepstakes at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday. She carded 96-21-75.

Mrs. J. L. McFadden, 81-15-76, was second. Mrs. C. V. Doty and Mrs. Mable Drumm tied for third, Mrs. Doty shooting 98-20-78, and Mrs. Drumm 102-24-78.

Mrs. Roy Langley won in Class B with 111-38-73. Mrs. E. B. Van Meter was next with 110-34-76. Three tied for third: Mrs. Norbert Lentz, 108-29-79; Mrs. J. H. Boege, 117-38-79, and Mrs. H. B. Rapp, 111-32-79.

Mrs. Louise Mock was first in Class C with 136-60-76. Mrs. Foster Lamm had 134-55-79. Mrs. Blodgett 149-68-81, and Mrs. Nat Neff 144-61-83.

There were no traffic jams in the vicinity of Delhi road last night and nobody was hurt in the rush to buy tickets for the regular monthly "re-opening" of the Orange County Athletic club, only a handful of faithful fans turning out for the first boxing show conducted under the direction of W. L. Crane and Art Ogilvie, Santa Monica promoters.

The matchmakers were not totally discouraged, however, was indicated by an announcement from the ring that another card, featuring Joe Ruiz and Charley Sapho, will be presented next Thursday.

In view of the fact that Messrs. Crane and Ogilvie made no concentrated drive for public approval, saw no reason to follow a rather ancient custom of honoring press representatives with complimentary tickets, and apparently did no "papering" of the house, as is usual on opening nights, the attendance wasn't so bad.

AL's Auto Service nosed out the Santa Ana 20-30 club, 7 to 6, and the Mystery Team punished the Presbyterians, 13 to 6, in two games at the Bowl last night that completed the sixth week of City league baseball.

Now the only undefeated club in the race, the Hill and Cardens are well ahead of the field, all but the Hawley Sportsmen being at least two full games to the rear.

Al's Auto Service had to put on full steam ahead to win from the 20-30's who reluctantly relinquished a 6-5 lead in the last inning. Jackson's home run tied the score and then F. Staten, H. Staten and Castro followed with singles to make the winning unit.

"Tex" Bergman, veteran pitcher for the servicemen, was the big noise of the victory. He not only hit two homers but stopped the 20-30's with one hit, a single in the fifth inning. Bergman produced most of the Clubmen tallies.

Willie Rask's Mystery Team won its second game of the week in routing the Presbyterians. The Mysteryes knocked Ray Griset off the ridge in the fourth during a six-run spurge and got four more off his successor, Bear, in the sixth. The Presbyterians got their only hit off Morse and four of their six tallies in the seventh.

The box scores:

Herb Russell showed speed and cleverness in decisively outpointing the washed-up Jesse Ayala in the special event.

Ned Herman stopped Salvador Luvono in the first round. This one had the customers laughing while it lasted. Luvono being head and shoulders taller than the squat Herman. Little Ned worked on Luvono's midriff which proved the proper place.

Nick Mestas won a decision over James Burros and Adolphus Hayes and Domingo Lopez drew although Hayes looked to have the better of the bargain due to a pair of knock-downs.

Frankie Burke was the referee.

Al Singer's Win Is Unimpressive

NEW YORK, June 19.—(UP)—Al Singer, 21-year-old former world's lightweight champion, had a victory over Lew Massey of Philadelphia to his credit today as the first step in his "comeback" campaign, but his prospects of regaining the title he lost to Tony Canzoneri last November appeared extremely remote.

On the basis of his showing against Massey, Singer is entitled to rating no better than the seventh place accorded him in the National Boxing association rankings. Certainly he showed nothing to stamp him as a worthy foe for Champion Canzoneri, Jack (Kid) Berg, Just Suarez or Billy Petrolle.

Tight Games Mark City Tennis Meet

Close, hard fought sets marked all but one of the matches played in the Santa Ana twilight tennis tournament on the high school courts yesterday.

Gene Robinson turned back A. B. Anderson in two love sets in a Class B tussle but otherwise everything was warmly contested. Ward Bettis defeated Dr. Kenneth Coulson, 7-5, 4-6, 7-5; Harold Smith beat Floyd Klingenberg, 6-4, 6-4, and Lewis Wetherell won from Ernest Zimmerman, 6-4, 8-6.

TWENTY TO ONE

The other day the New York Telegram started a poll on the new larger-lighter golf ball. In no time at all the replies started pouring in. Early returns were 20 to 1 against the balloon.

There is an odd note in the chorus of complaint that has been heard throughout the land since the gentlemen who used to break 100 regularly last year have discovered that they are now shooting around 109. That discord in the song comes from scores of professionals who chant the praises of the balloon ball while most of the run-of-the-rough golfers scream for its damnation.

Perhaps the balloon, like prohibition, is a "noble experiment" and requires a thorough trial.

STORY OF THE BALL

Here is the story of the new ball, as told by Herbert Jacques, chairman of the Implements and Ball Committee of the U. S. G. A.: "After the introduction of the

WYKOFF RACES OLYMPIC KING: 440 FEATURES

BY RONALD W. WAGONER (United Press Staff Correspondent) LOS ANGELES, June 19.—(UP)—A pre-olympic track and field meet with two main events in which Frank Wykoff will meet Percy Williams, and Vic Williams will race against Ben Eastman, will be held tonight in the huge Los Angeles Coliseum which will be the scene of the 1932 Olympic Games. More than 50,000 track fans are expected.

Wykoff, holder of 2.4 for the 100 yard dash, will run in the century against Williams, Canadian ace and winner of the 100 and 200 meters championships at Amsterdam in 1928.

Eight of the fastest sprinters in the United States also will be in the race.

Eastman, a lanky Stanford sophomore, and Williams, a teammate of Wykoff at U. S. C., each has beaten the other this year.

Eastman tied Ted Meredith's ancient world's record of 4.4 for the 440-yard run early this season when he trimmed Williams in a Pacific coast conference meet.

Two weeks later Williams went to Philadelphia and equalled the Meredith mark in trimming the Stanford runner in the I. C. A. A. A. meet.

Wykoff was beaten by Williams at Amsterdam in the 1923 Olympics, and at Vancouver in 1929 over a 100 meter course. Wykoff, however, has made 9.4 on several occasions since then.

All of the other eight men in the race have made the distance under 10 seconds.

Emmett Toppino, New Orleans, was timed in 9.5 at the recent Chicago intercollegiate meet.

Nate George, Whittier college Negro, was 9.6.

THREE POPULAR MUSICIANS ON RADIO PROGRAM

Three favorites from Santa Ana's group of musicians will be presented over KREG from 9 to 9:30 p. m. today in a program that will be varied and of interest to lovers of both classical and popular music. Elfrida Irwin will sing a group of popular ballads, accompanied on the piano by Elta Fisher. The group of numbers she will present includes "I Surrender Dear," "Don't Sing Aloha When I Go," "Wabash Moon," "Sing a Little Prayer For Me," and "Teardrops and Kisses." Elta Fisher, popular pianist, will play, "Sonatine," by Ravel, "Meditation," by Lee Sims, "Cradle Song," by Brahms, and a medley of popular songs. Lorena Croddy, one of the artists who has become popular with KREG listeners, will present a group of vocal solos including "Angel's Serenade," by G. Braga, with a violin obligato to be played by Betty Paul; "Lullaby from Jocelyn," by Godard, "Because," by D'Harcourt, "A Dream," by Bartlett, and "Sing, Sing, Birds on the Wing," by Nutting.

CHILDREN'S HOUR TRYOUT TOMORROW

Tomorrow from 8 to 9 a. m. Lorena Croddy, director of the KREG children's hour, will conduct a try-out for youngsters who wish to take part in the weekly broadcasts. She announced today that future tryouts will be conducted each Wednesday from 1 to 2 p. m. Starting Monday the children's hour programs will be heard from 11:30 a. m. to noon. They will be broadcast three times each week, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. In the past the programs have been on the air from 5:30 to 6 p. m.

KREG PLAYERS ON PROSPERITY RADIO PROGRAM

Tonight's program in the series of Prosperity programs will bring the KREG Dramatic players to local radio fans presenting a series of sketches and blackouts titled "Sketches in Black and White, Here, There and Everywhere." George Richardson and Harry Brackett, both well known to KREG audiences, are featured in this period which will be broadcast from 7:30 to 8:15 p. m.

The Prosperity programs are being sponsored by a group of prominent Santa Ana business men. Tonight's broadcast is the sixth in a series of 12. George Richardson, sales specialist with the Southern California Edison company, will deliver the address tonight, speaking on "Prosperity in Santa Ana."

The KREG Dramatic players will make a second appearance on tonight's broadcast, presenting a one act play, "Life in Hades," from 8:30 until 9 p. m. A most interesting plot revolving about three characters who are dead and find themselves in Hades should interest local listeners. George Richardson will play "James Davis," a port officer; Lula Brackett is "Frances," the girl; and Harry Brackett plays "Lawrence Fox," a poet. Several interesting and out-of-the-ordinary twists are presented in this play. The fact that "Life in Hades" is one of the cleverest productions the local radio players have yet presented should guarantee 30 minutes of enjoyable entertainment.

Miracles are expected of the Ford engines. Reckless youngsters "wind them up" at breathtaking speeds. Adults "pound them on high" needlessly. It is a miracle that the motors stay in the frames.
No ordinary motor oil can stand up and protect a motor under such abuse. A special grade of pure Pennsylvania motor oil must be used.
Gilmore sensed this need—and has perfected a new grade of Lion Head Motor Oil—Lion Head "40"—the purest Pennsylvania Motor Oil, refined to meet the exacting specifications of Ford factory engineers.
Lion Head "40" positively protects and lubricates Ford motors. It keeps motors cooler—in minimizes carbon—does not thin out nor break down. Every Ford owner should insist on Lion Head "40." The most highly filtered motor oil in America.

NO-HUM. IT WAS JUST ANOTHER FOOLISH DREAM

Just another beautiful dream and now we know that "there ain't no Santa Claus."

Liggett and Myers, producers of a mild but satisfying cigarette have taken all the joy out of life. They have definitely blasted the humor that certain numbers printed on packages of cigarettes will entitle the finder to prizes ranging all the way from automobiles and checks for thousands of dollars down to celluloid ash trays and lead life preservers.

Several weeks ago some practical joker broadcast through devious channels that, out of their great hearts which beat only for humanity, manufacturers of leading brands of cigarettes had concealed numbers on each package of fags placed upon the market, certain numbers were designated as prize winners—and the race was on.

When Mr. P. T. Barnum made his famous statement about humanity and its universal gullibility he didn't know the half of it. For weeks there was a constant race to cigar stores by old and young, male and female, smart and not so smart, to purchase cigarettes only to tear feverishly at the packages seeking the magic numbers.

Liggett and Myers in blasting this rumor declare that any thinking person would immediately sense the ridiculous in such a proposition. In the first place giving prizes by the method described is a lottery and hence is illegal, second the numbers on cigarette packages are placed there for the manufacturer's identification purpose and in the third place the whole idea is silly in the first place.

MEN ACCUSED OF STEALING PORKER

Accused of hog stealing, two men were arrested early yesterday by members of the Orange county fruit patrol and deputy sheriffs and are being held in the county jail, where they are booked for investigation.

The men are: Angel Perales, 19, and Salvador Gutor, 17, both of Stanton. According to Officer Snodgrass, of the fruit patrol, who with Officer Dungan and Deputy Sheriff Earl Nickles made the arrest, the men are believed to have stolen a 125 pound hog from the Santa Monica Ranch company, located west of Fullerton, last night. The hog was killed but had not been carried away and was recovered by officers.

In the United States last year more than 40,000,000 dozen handkerchiefs were made.

Faces Charge Of Carrying Weapon

Charged with carrying a deadly weapon concealed, Antonio Madigal, 23, of El Modena, was arrested by deputy sheriffs Wednesday night and lodged in the county jail. Officers were called to a pool room at El Modena where it was reported a disturbance was being made. Several shots had been fired. It was reported. When they found Madigal with a pistol in his pocket which recently had been fired, the man was arrested.

Court Notes

Part of the assets of the estate of Emma H. Gardner, consisting of three parcels of real estate in Los Angeles, have been evaluated at $50,000, according to an inventory and appraisal report covering the Los Angeles property which was filed today by Frank Smith, appraiser, with County Clerk J. M. Backs. One parcel, located at the corner of Third and Flower streets, is valued at $40,000.

T. A. and Irma Miller are plaintiffs in an action which has been filed in superior court against Vernon M. Blythe, et al, in which judgment of $6000 and costs is sought in connection with a promissory note.

Cruel and inhuman treatment, desertion and failure to provide charges brought against Joseph C. Hager in a separate maintenance action which has been filed in superior court by his wife, Elmina E. Hager. They were married at Coweta, Indian territory, in 1904, and separated last October. Mrs. Hager asks that the court award her $200 monthly.

Gobar to superior court. The suit involves a sum of $106.50 alleged to be due for damages to Webb's car in a collision at Fullerton last January. The appeal was filed by Gobar.

Attorney Charles Wilcox, legal counsel for Andrew Wilcox, who failed to appear in criminal court last Friday at the time Wilcox was up on a hearing for probation, was brought before Judge James L. Allen Wednesday on a bench warrant which was issued following his failure to appear in behalf of his client. Judge Allen ordered the attorney to appear at the hearing on June 19 at 9:30 a.m. or to have a substitution appointed to represent him at the hearing.

A remittitur and opinion from the second district court of appeals received by County Clerk J. M.

Backs, affirms a judgment and court ruling of Justice E. J. Marks when he was on the Orange county superior court bench. The action was one that was brought by Frank G. and Josephine Pinkerton against Joe Crail, Shoreline Oil company and Charles A. Son, in which they asked judgment of $1800 as a balance due for orange trees destroyed in drilling operations by the defendants under an agreement providing for payment at the rate of $100 per tree. The judgment was for the plaintiffs.

Inventory and appraisal of the estate of Charles E. Huddlestone, which has been filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs, shows that the estate has assets of $650.

Decrees of quiet title have been granted by Judge James L. Allen in connection with three suits which were filed over a year ago. All of the actions involved property in the Seventeenth street section at Huntington Beach. Decrees were granted as follows: To Superior Oil company against Frederick J. Martin, et al; to Rose Amelin Everett against Luther Arthur, et al; and to Carl L. Viereck against Luther Arthur, et al.

CHARGE NEW SUPERINTENDENT OF WHITTIER BOYS' SCHOOL HAS JAIL KEEPER'S ATTITUDE

Here is the sixth of the series of articles on the Rolph spoils system in California and which is being printed daily in the Los Angeles Record and reproduced in The Register—(Editor).

The belligerent citizens' committee headed by Elmer R. Murphy of Pasadena looked over the work of Claude S. Smith, new superintendent at Whittier state school, and found it not up to scratch.

"Mr. Smith," says Murphy, "is a pleasant personality and well-intentioned and would do well at Folsom. His whole attitude is that of a jail-keeper."

"Through lack of understanding of the psychology of the boys there has been so much talk directed against running away that between 15 and 20 boys ran away the first month as against three formerly."

"The policy of Whittier and similar schools in New York and New Jersey is to minimize the importance of running away and preach the doctrine that there is nothing to run away from, as Whittier is a school."

Unfortunate Changes

The citizens' committee lists the following unfortunate changes made by Superintendent Smith during his brief stay at Whittier:

1. The Winnetka system of vocational training, recognized as one of the finest in use in the nation, was discontinued and other methods substituted which would not require supervisors and teachers to be on the job all day.

2. The carefully worked-out schedule of competitive athletic games that formerly filled in the time Saturday afternoons and all day Sunday has been abandoned. All of the Sunday athletic games were abolished.

3. Harold E. Wright, able vocational director, has been discharged and his place taken by Harry Jones, a former service manager for the Graham-Paige company, Los Angeles. Wright has a degree from the University of California for his particular profession, was successful in the Oakland schools and was an outstanding mechanic with a large airplane factory. He was well fitted to handle boys.

4. Louis Battersby, the outstanding physical director who had worked up a competitive athletic program that reached 94 per cent of the more than 300 boys at Whittier and kept them busy during spare time, was displaced by a former Whittier high school employee said to have flizzed out in football and baseball coach work.

5. Mabel Parks, head nurse under civil service and an "idol" of the boys, who had stayed with the institution through several epidemics, was summarily discharged because she neglected to lock a

BLACK SPIDER NOT ACTIVE IN ORANGE COUNTY

Although the state department of public health has issued a warning to keep a close watch for the "black widow" spider, there has been no report of anybody being bitten by the insect in Orange county for the past year, according to a statement made today by Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer.

Last September Mrs. Burt Williams, of La Habra, was ill for a long time as the result of being bitten by the poisonous insect, according to records on file at the health department.

Dr. Sutherland declared that he had found several of the spiders and that it was true that they frequent this territory, choosing old buildings and similar musty places for their abode. The poisonous species is shiny and black, with three white spots on the abdomen. It is only the female that bites.

While the bite of the venomous insect might prove fatal to a small child, it is not likely that it would prove fatal to older persons, Dr. Sutherland declared. After the sharp stinging bite an acute pain develops in the region of the surface bitten, spreading to other parts of the body. In addition to the pain there is generally writhing, muscle contraction, difficulty in breathing, cold perspiration, spasms, nausea and an extreme weakness in the process of recovery. In fatal cases death comes from 14 to 32 hours.

In 1927 a furor was created in Southern California by the appearance of articles in Eastern newspapers that made false statements about the conditions in California as follows:

"A creeping, crawling horror is spreading death and terror on the Pacific coast. It is the invasion of the 'black widow' spider, a venomous, gruesome tropical spider which is baffling scientists and already has taken a toll of human lives that may eventually overshadow the flu epidemic of war days."

The same article declared that "women in Southern California are screaming in fear and agony when the dread widow spider fastens its poisonous mandibles in their flesh with a bite that spells death."

Following the school session, they will motor to Warren, Ill., to visit Mr. Gaylord's mother. The Misses Lydia and Rita Griffith, of Balboa Island, will occupy the Gaylord home during the owner's absence. Mr. Gaylord is a teacher in the Tustin schools.

Mrs. Sarah Brown is convalescing from a recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Allison and children, Paul, Ruth and Merrill, 890 South C street, spent Sunday in Tijuana.

PERISCOPING PROSPERITY FOR SANTA ANA BUSINESS

Believing, with Roger Babson, noted business statistician, that "business has seen its darkest hour," Walter Swanberger of Swanberger's Store for Men, declares "The bottom has been reached and we are now on the up grade. The year 1931 is showing a decided improvement over the past two years. This indication has been particularly in evidence during the past two months."

"Public confidence will be the greatest factor in the restoration of prosperity. As it is the greatest factor in carrying on any individual business so is it in the conduct of the nation's business. When the people re-establish confidence in the future of American business and in the men at the head of national affairs, both political and industrial then a speedy return to normalcy can be expected. This confidence, I believe, has been aroused."

"A spirit of optimism is in the very air. Newspaper headlines are declaring that business is improving and to prove that they are making no idle boast quote such authorities as Babson who has said, 'business has seen its darkest hour. We are now swinging up to reach out natural balance.'"

"Increased buying is noted in all lines. This is due in part to the fact that never, in years, has it been possible for the retailer to offer merchandise of the high quality of today at such low prices. The other factor in the increased buying is the fact that American people are natural buyers. The inflated value of the dollar in recent years has curbed this tendency but with the present value of the dollar the people, realizing the wonderful opportunities offered them, are starting to buy."

"Pieces of raw material, labor readjustments created through the increased buying power of the dollar and the reorganizing of factories on a more efficient basis have all combined to make it possible, I believe for retailers in all lines to offer the public, at least by fall, the best merchandise in all lines at prices that have never been equaled since 1915."

CHURCH BIBLE SCHOOL IS TO BEGIN MONDAY

A four week session of daily vacation Bible school will start at the First Methodist church educational building next Monday morning for children from 3 to 14 years of age. It was announced today from the office of Dr. George A. Warner, church pastor. School will begin at 9 a. m. daily, except Saturday, and classes will be held until noon.

The program, which will be directed by accredited teachers with a corps of capable helpers and assistants, will include instruction in songs, hymns, Bible verses, dramatization, handwork, picture stories, service activities, with games and fun periods interspersed for recreation.

The work will be organized in four departments—beginners, 3-5 years old; primary, 6-8 years old; juniors, 9-11 years old; and intermediates, 11-14 years old. No charge will be made to the children, but an opportunity will be given to help pay for the supplies used.

"The vacation church school has come to be recognized as a useful agency for the successful promotion of religious education," the announcement states. "The primary purpose is to instruct the child in the fundamental religious values which contribute to the most fruitful living. The child will not be robbed of any of its rightful play time. He will get plenty of time and opportunity to attend the supervised playground program in the afternoons. Many boys and girls already are enrolled, and although Monday morning will be time enough for enrollment it is advisable to enroll some time this week. This may be done by calling the church office, or mailing a letter to Vacation Church School, First Methodist Episcopal church, Santa Ana."

COUNTY RULING PREVENTS USE OF FIREWORKS

Approach of the Fourth of July, when fireworks and explosives of various kinds are used in celebration, has called to mind of county officials an ordinance prohibiting and regulating the use of fireworks in the county which was adopted by the board of supervisors in 1921.

The ordinance makes it unlawful to "fire or discharge any gun, cannon, rifle, pistol, toy pistol or firearm of any kind, or explode any rocket, cracker, Roman candle, torpedo-cane, blank cartridge or other explosive device or any kind of fireworks by whatever name known" upon the streets, alleys, sidewalks or highways of any closely built up territory in the incorporated portion of the county, or within 50 feet of any house, building, outbuilding, tent or other structure, or within 50 feet of any wood, hay, lumber or other combustible material within the unincorporated portions of the county.

Violations of the provisions of the ordinance are termed misdemeanors and the person found guilty thereof is subject to a fine of not to exceed $25, or a term in the county jail of not to exceed 30 days or both.

Santa Ana Musician Returns From Stay In Honolulu

Accorded a warm welcome by her many friends and admirers in this community, Miss Georgia Belle Walton has returned here from Honolulu where she spent the past several weeks, and has plans well under completion for the opening of a violin studio June 21. This will be in her home at 720 West Third street.

Although it has been only a short time since Miss Walton's return, already she is resuming her activities as a member of the Santa Ana String trio, of which Miss Ruth Armstrong and Edward Burns are the other members.

During her stay on the islands, making her home with Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Kilbourne and Miss Janet Kilbourne, Miss Walton was active in musical circles there. She was a member of the staff at KGBM and KGU, Honolulu radio studios, with Yvonne Waldo Thompson, concert pianist of note who is spending the year in Hawaii, as her accompanist. She was a special guest at many meetings of the Morning Music club there.

Miss Walton made her first public appearance in Honolulu with the Honolulu Lyric Choral society. Press reports in regard to the concert stated in part: "It has been a long time since Honolulu has heard such beauty, richness of tone and vivid interpretation as poured from Georgia Walton's violin Thursday night."

The young violinist plans to continue her music studies in Los Angeles.

New Member Initiated Preceding Luncheon In Tompkins Home

Initiation of Mrs. Charles Earl Smith as a new member was the feature of the usual morning meeting held Wednesday by members of the Social Order of the Beauceant. Following this feature members and guests adjourned to the home of Mrs. J. H. Tompkins, 711 South Sycamore street, where luncheon was served at 1 o'clock.

In entertaining, Mrs. Tompkins was assisted by Mrs. Elmer Bowyer and a hostess committee. In the dining room a large table was decked with special appointments, and was designated for officers of the Beauceant. Four smaller tables were spread for other present.

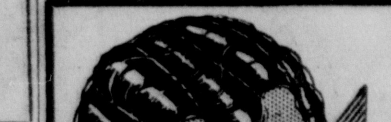

Soon after the luncheon hour, little Bernice Tompkins, 10-year-old granddaughter of the hostess, gave several selections on the piano. About 40 were present at the affair, including a little group of husbands and two guests, Mrs. C. P. Tompkins and Miss Dorothy Smith, in addition to the members.

November Wedding Date Revealed to Guests At Bridge Party

Diplomas which Miss Alice Louise Hanson and Ervin E. Richardson received so recently as members of the 1931 graduating class of polytechnic high school, found their miniature counterparts in vastly more important "diplomas" which last night revealed to a group of close friends, the romantic news of the marriage of the young people, an event of November 26, 1930, in Yuma, Ariz.

The announcement came in the course of a most enjoyable evening party given in the home of the young bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lars Hanson, 410 South Sycamore street. The happy nature of the affair was suggested by the profusion of vivid flowers adorning the home, with peach and coral gladioluses adding special charm.

Bridge was played and when scores were added on the dainty floral tally cards, Mrs. T. W. Jay was discovered to be in the lead. To her was presented a pair of attractive book-ends in modernistic design, while a clothes brush of special decorations, was awarded Mrs. J. M. Richardson for second high score and Mrs. C. F. Yelding received a quantity designed toothbrush holder as third prize.

Two course refreshments served at the close of the evening, gave opportunity for the distribution of the tiny ribbon-tied "diplomas" which revealed the fact that the daughter of the home was both a high school graduate and a bride. Tables were very charming with their embroidered linens and their floral decorations of pink sweet peas and maidenhair fern in slender crystal vases. Mrs. Lera Mae Frisbie assisted Mrs. Hanson in serving.

Both young people are well-known in this city, and Mr. Richardson is the son of Mrs. J. M. Richardson of Balboa. He and his bride will make their home in Ontario, where Mr. and Mrs. Hanson also are to establish their home at an early date.

The marriage in November was maintained as a secret from everyone except the members of the two families, and its announcement last night was made to a group of friends including Miss Margaret Putnam, Mrs. Raymond Dixon, Mrs. T. W. Jay, Miss Beryl Ludlow, Mrs. W. H. Adams, Mrs. A. L. Hanson, Miss Allen Buck, Mrs. J. F. Adams, Mrs. C. M. Hanson, Mrs. C. F. Yelding, Mrs. W. W. Read, Mrs. Maurice Read, Mrs. Woodrow Barnett, Miss Virginia Hersher, Miss Sylvia Yelding, Miss Mary Read, Miss Harriett Vance, Mrs. Owen Woodruff, Mrs. Kenneth E. Adams, Mrs. C. H. Adams, Mrs. Lera Mae Frisbie, Miss Virginia Styer and Miss Virginia Golden, together with the mothers of the two young people, the hostess, Mrs. Hanson, and Mrs. J. M. Richardson.

Bridge Club Members Entertained Lentz Home

The pretty home of Mrs. Norbert Lentz on Tustin avenue was the scene of a delightful affair Tuesday when Mrs. Lentz was hostess to members of her bridge club. Baskets of flowers from the gardens of the home were used in decorative effect.

The usual card session occupied the afternoon hours, and results of the diversion revealed Mrs. Joe Bronson and Mrs. Norbert Lentz held first and second high, and Mrs. Cyrus H. Lurker, low. An appetizing refreshment course was served at the card tables.

Those sharing the afternoon's pleasures with Mrs. Lentz and her daughter, Miss Marguerite Lentz, a guest of the club, were Mesdames Glenn H. Cave, Leland Eubank, Willard McCain, Joe Branson, Charles M. Gramer and Cyrus H. Lurker.

Her lovely voice found fitting expression in two numbers, "I Would Weave a Song for You" by O'Hara, and "One Fine Day" from Madam Butterfly by Puccini.

Delicate Color Motif Observed at Wedding In Church Chapel

The wedding last night at 8 o'clock of Miss Gladys Stoneman, daughter of Mrs. Louise Stoneman, this city, and Chester Bratsch of Orange, was marked by a delicacy and charm whose keynote was found in the yellow and white color motif observed in all appointments. The bride's chapel of the First Methodist church, aglow with tall white tapers resting in candelabra, was the setting for the ceremony.

While guests were arriving, Miss Helen Glancy, an intimate friend of Miss Stoneman, played a piano medley of "Because," "At Dawning" and "All for You." Miss Lorraine Turk followed with a violin solo, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," one of the bride's favorite selections. Miss Miriam Adamson sang, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Oh Promise Me," after which Miss Turk played another violin number, "Love, Here Is My Heart."

Miss Glancy acted as accompanist for the musicians, changing to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March for the entry of the bride party. Dr. George Waggoner, pastor of the church, officiated, conducting the ceremony before the raised altar, banked with palms and ferns serving as a background for the tall baskets of yellow gladioluses and ferns.

The bride made a lovely picture in her bouffant frock of yellow organza over satin, with ruffled skirt reaching almost to the floor. Her picture hat was of cream lace, and her slippers were of moire in soft yellow. The sparkling strand of crystals which she wore as the gift of the bridegroom, and her shower bouquet of Tailsman roses and lilies of the valley, completed the charming costume. Miss Stoneman was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Russell Thompson.

As matron of honor, the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Lloyd Baker of Orange, was attractive in orchid organza with matching slippers. Her hat was of ecorse hair braid, and she carried an arm bouquet of pink sweet peas.

Little Vivian Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thompson, was flower girl. She wore a ruffled pink organza frock and carried a colonial bouquet.

Raymond Marsh of La Habra, a cousin to Mr. Bratsch, acted as best man. Two other cousins of the bridegroom, Amos Geib and Elmer Wenzel, of San Gabriel, were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception for family members and intimate friends was held in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Louise Stoneman, 518 South Sycamore street. Light refreshments were served, including the wedding cake, cut by the new Mrs. Bratsch. The home was attractively decorated with yellow flowers, in keeping with the color scheme of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Bratsch left for a honeymoon trip, the bride wearing a coral suit with white accessories. On their return, they will make their home in Garden Grove. Mr. Bratsch, the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Bratsch of Orange, is employed with the Zenith Aircraft association in Midway City. He is a graduate of Orange Union high school, later attending the Pacific Technical University of Aeronautics at San Diego.

Mrs. Bratsch attended high school and junior college in Santa Ana, completing her college course at San Diego State Teachers' college. For the past four years she has been teaching at the Bolsa school.

Leitchfuss of Orange, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kelsey, active in the Veterans' organizations.

A yellow and white color scheme added its own special charm to the scene, with white sweet peas, gladiolus and dahlia blooms used with graceful maidenhair fern and festoons of yellow. Thirty-six guests assembled around the pretty table to enjoy one of the famous luncheons of this group. At a nearby table decked with snowy gladioluses and garlands of yellow, were many intriguing packages and Miss Kelsey was invited to open these after the luncheon hour.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Buttermilk for Headaches

I buy a good part of my butter at a dairy shop in one of the public markets. Yesterday I noticed an attractive dairy maid dispensing ice cold buttermilk, "free to customers, all others, 5 cents per glass." So I tried a glass and am now a convert to his homely old drink. I noticed people coming in with gallon glass jars, buying it for 20 cents a gallon. That gave me an idea—

If I were overweight, full of headache and general good-for-nothingness, I think I might inaugurate a diet that would use this fat-free cold buttermilk for a beverage. With it I would eat for the principal part of the meal, cooked vegetables dressed with a little butter, or a big plate of salad with mineral oil salad dressing, and fresh fruit for dessert, minus cream and only a tiny bit of sugar. I would permit myself one slice of bread, but I would limit butter almost to a whisper.

Buttermilk, with its lactic acid, is a fine intestinal police agent.... away would fly the headache and lassitude after a few days' use. Buttermilk is a protein food, so tissue growth is taken care of when it is employed in a reducing diet. If hunger attacks one between meals as it so often does, a glass of cream-free buttermilk will satisfy without adding a speck of weight.

Tomorrow I will tell you why the use of bread, or some form of STARCH in limited amounts is a health measure in reducing diets.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Dutch Apple Cake
2 cups pastry flour
4 tablespoons sugar
4 scant teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter
1 egg, well beaten
3-4 cup sweet milk
Cinnamon, extra sugar and butter for cake top
6 tart apples, sliced thin

For this cake I nominate the first summer apple, Early Transparent, for the important post of decorating the top of the cake. This apple has the necessary virtue of baking quickly.

First, sift the flour, then measure out the two cups, add the salt, baking powder, four tablespoons of sugar, and sift twice. Cut the butter into the prepared flour, just as you would if making biscuits.

Beat the egg to a froth, mix with the milk and use to make a soft dough. Have a square cake pan well buttered, spread the dough to a depth of one-half inch deep, then rank the sliced apples, row by row, until the top of the cake is thickly covered. Sprinkle liberally with sugar and cinnamon, dot with butter, just as generously, and bake in a quick oven. Serve hot, with or without cream. Baked as a hot breakfast bread it makes grand "eats" for Sunday breakfast.

The calories total 2575; individual computations I leave to those who eat this cake. But don't forget that bread stuffs are a principal source of energy foods.

How would you like to have one, two, three or more comfortable hassocks for your porch this summer? They cost like everything if you have to buy them, but a very good looking product can be made by "loving hands at home." Send me your stamped, self-addressed envelope and I will mail you back directions for the making. Just ask for FASCINATING FURNISHINGS.

SEEN IN NEW COMEDY

Robert Woolsey returns to Santa Ana tomorrow with Anna Louise in the newest Radio Comedy, "Everything's Rosie," which will be seen over the week-end at the Fox West Coast theater with a road show.

'WHITE SHOULDERS' OPENS AT BROADWAY

From the pages of a Rex Beach novel comes a story packed with power, jammed with drama and driven through with a motivation that is as fast moving as life itself.

Such a story has been transferred to the talking motion picture screen in a Radio Pictures production that is said to be better than the novel in its scope and in its strong human appeal.

"White Shoulders" opened last night at the Fox Broadway Theater with Mary Astor, Jack Holt, Ricardo Cortez and Sidney Toler heading a distinguished cast of featured players.

The sweep of its locales is far-reaching, with scenes laid in South American gold mines, Monte Carlo gaming houses, Monaco villas, Parisian fashion salons and New York pent-house apartments. In each of these places, the story receives heart-smashing dramatic impetus which carries it through to a vigorous climax.

ning with Mr. and Mrs. Belew were Mr. and Mrs. Carl V. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Besser, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Angle, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Larkin, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Jayberg and daughters, the Misses Margaret and Nona Jean Jayberg, Miss Edith Gallup and Allan Hershey, all of Santa Ana.

College Friends Told Of Wedding Date in July, 1930

Fullerton junior college young people, meeting last night in the Guild hall of the Fullerton Episcopal church, heard a surprising bit of news when they were informed that two of their number, Miss Leona Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cook, 1600 McFadden street, Santa Ana, and Thomas Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Reed of Elm avenue, Fullerton, were married in July, 1930.

The romantic marriage took place in Riverside almost a year ago, and the young people have kept it secret ever since, last night's announcement being the first time they have divulged the secret.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hunter are well known throughout the county. Mr. Hunter graduated with this year's class from Fullerton junior college, after having gone through the high school of that city. His bride followed her graduation from Tustin high school with a course at Fullerton junior college where she was a member of last year's graduating class. She attended Whittier college during the school year just ended.

The young people will welcome their friends at their home, 239 West Wilshire avenue, Fullerton.

'EVERYTHING ROSIE' COMING SATURDAY

The mysterious lure of the saw-dust trail!

The glitter of spangles—the romantic glow of gasoline lights—the crooning of the speakers—the shrill of the pipes—the raucous tones of the hawkers—the intimacy of life under canvas and on the trail from small town to small town!

All has been captured in Radio Pictures' comedy, "Everything's Rosie," starring Robert Woolsey at the Fox West Coast theater Saturday and Sunday.

One goes into the very heart of carnival life—the production is literally the answer to every youngster's prayer—"Oh! to join the circus."

One sits at tables with the fortune teller, the palm reader, the horoscope faker and learns the tricks of the trade, and one actually goes under the shells with the little pea to discover the elusive secret of the "shell game," a game that has cost America's rural dwellers millions of dollars. And woven through it all is a romantic story and delicious comedy, affording Woolsey an opportunity to be wittier and funnier than in any of his previous triumphs. The romance reveals him as an artist as well as a comic, while the support he receives from the excellent cast is superb.

3 Youths Jailed On Check Charges

BREA, June 19.—Constable W. D. Tremaine reports the arrest of Frank Garcia, Monsello Escamilla and Guadalupe Ebarra for the issuance of bad checks. The young men, all about 13 years of age, confessed to three such check charges, Tremaine declared. Several other bogus checks have been passed in the vicinity of Brea and La Habra, Tremaine said.

PETER B. KYNE FILM WELL RECEIVED HERE

Those who love romance with a dash of adventure will undoubtedly be fascinated with the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer South Sea Island picture, "Never the Twain Shall Meet," which opened at the Fox West Coast theater last night.

Adapted from the story by Peter B. Kyne, the picture has a distinct tang of the islands.

Conchita Montenegro, the little Spanish dancer recently brought to America, was almost created for the part of Tanea, the South Sea Island siren who, by her exotic wiles and native charms, so blinds the action of a wealthy American family that he gives up his home, people and business to follow her to her tropical island.

She is the downfall of Dan Pritchard, ably played by Leslie Howard, who made such a sensation in both the stage and screen versions of "Outward Bound." Her sensual charm drives him almost to madness and his portrayal of the slow but sure degeneration of the white man in the islands is excellent.

In "Never the Twain Shall Meet" is portrayed the fierce struggle of the races that made immortal the words, "east is east and west is west, but never the twain shall meet."

YORBA LINDA

YORBA LINDA, June 19.—Members of the executive board of the California Friends Christian Endeavor were entertained Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Clara Janeway, with Miss Janeway, and Miss Theresa Ross as hostesses.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gavette, of Montebello; Mr. and Mrs. Wymer Pyle and Miss Elizabeth Shreve, of Whittier; the Rev. Harley Moore, of East Whittier; Miss Lydia Hudspeth, of Whittier, and Miss Janeway and Miss Ross.

Mrs. J. J. Carter is spending the week at Yosemite with relatives from Los Angeles.

These included "So Good Honey on Waffles," "For Breakfast Honey on Grapefruit," "Nothing Better Hot Cakes with Honey," "How Good Honey on Blintzes," "Enjoy Your Cereal with Honey," "Whole Wheat Muffins Made with Honey," "For Health Honey in Your Coffee," "Honey Is Your Best Sweet," "Improves the Flavor Honey on Berries," "Can Your Fruit With Honey," "Custard Sweetened with Orange Blossom Honey Delicious Favor."

HONEY NUT SPICE CAKE

1/2 cup shortening

1 1/2 cups honey
2 eggs
2 1/2 cups Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Flour or 2 1/2 cups Gold Medal "Special" Cake Flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. allspice
1/2 cup cold water
1 cup toasted nuts.
METHOD—1. Cream shortening, add honey and mix well. 2. Add well beaten eggs. 3. Sift flour once before measuring. 4. Sift flour, baking powder, soda, salt and spices together. 5. Add to creamed mixture alternately with the water. 6. Add nuts last and mix thoroughly. 7. Bake in well greased and floured cake pan. Time—Bake 45 minutes. Temperature—350 deg. F., moderate oven.

HONEY RECIPES

Size of pan—7 1/2 x 11 inches.
HONEY MERINGUE ICING—Heat 1 cup honey to 235 deg. F. or until it shows a thread when a little is dropped from a spoon. Pour slowly into two egg whites stiffly beaten. Continue beating until icing is fluffy and will hold its shape.

Amount—Icing for 2 layer cake.

HONEY APPLE PIE—Make an apple pie as usual but do not use any sugar with the apples—just the butter and cinnamon and do not use a top crust. After it is baked drizzle 1/2 cup honey over the apple filling and let pie stand until apples become soft and absorb all the honey. Then serve.

HONEY, PEANUT BUTTER AND LETTUCE ROLLS—Remove

crusts from loaf of sandwich bread. Slice bread lengthwise into five long slices. Spread each slice with butter, then with peanut butter, then honey, and cover with a thin lettuce leaf. Roll up as for a jelly roll. Wrap tightly in slightly dampened towel. Just before serving slice into thin slices, cutting as you would a jelly roll.

HONEY NUTLETS

1 cup shortening
1 cup honey
1 cup brown sugar
4 cups Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" flour
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 cups nuts.

Method—1. Melt shortening, add honey and mix well. 2. Add sugar and beaten eggs and mix well. 3. Sift flour once before measuring. 4. Sift flour, soda, salt and cinnamon together and add to the creamed mixture. 5. Add the nuts.

SHE WAS ALWAYS LEFT BEHIND

SHE NEVER seemed to have the pep that the other girls had. Nor was she so good-looking either. Her complexion was sallow. Wrinkles had appeared — years too soon. Little wonder that men found excuses when her name was mentioned.

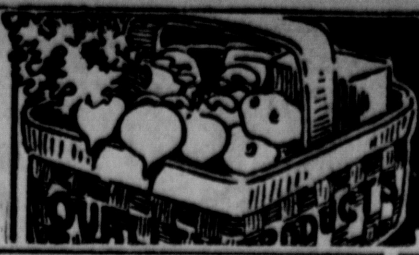

What a pity that so many girls lose beauty so soon . . . very often caused by the poisons of constipation. This could be prevented, easily, pleasantly . . . by eating a delicious cereal.

Two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, eaten daily, are guaranteed to prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In severe cases, use with each meal.

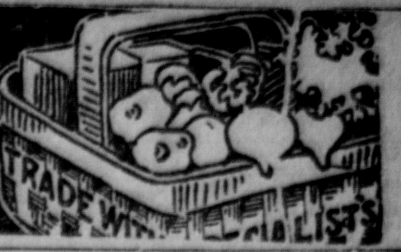

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN sweeps the intestines clean of all poisonous wastes. How much better than taking habit-forming pills and drugs.

Serve Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. Use for making fluffy bran muffins, breads, omelets, etc. Look for the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. The largest-selling ALL-BRAN.

Register Water Program

1.—THAT ORANGE COUNTY, OR AS MUCH OF THE COUNTY AS IS WILLING TO DO SO, SHALL BECOME A PART OF THE METROPOLITAN WATER DISTRICT.
2.—THAT WATER NOW BEING WASTED THROUGH EVAPORATION AND TRANSPIRATION IN THE PRADO BASIN SHALL BE SAVED.
3.—THAT SEWAGE WATER FROM THE CITIES SHALL BE SALVAGED AND RECLAIMED FOR USE.
4.—THAT A PROGRAM FOR FLOOD CONTROL BE DEVELOPED, WITH FLOOD CONTROL AS THE PRINCIPAL AIM, AND THE SAVING OF THE FLOOD WATER INCIDENTAL THERE-TO.

WHAT IS THE REASON?

Though the interest of the people in their own government is one of the great objects desired by all interested in the carrying on of public functions, the people's interest in affairs is usually in direct proportion to their knowledge of such affairs.

Public officials, who have the power to expend money, are importuned by groups and classes to make appropriations for specific things, which in many cases are of no value or of little value to the people at large. The desire to please is a natural human desire. For politically-minded people, who are in public office, the desire to please, in order to obtain the support of groups is more than a human desire—it becomes a matter of political policy.

The politician who has gained the support of one group by granting an appropriation, and has not alienated other groups of taxpayers by that act, considers himself almost a statesman. The usual and customary way, if possible, to accomplish this, is to say nothing about the appropriation to the public, rather conceal it from them. Thereby, the support is attained of those who are asking for it, and through the ignorance of the people of the actual facts, there is no loss of friendships elsewhere.

For this reason, as well as for the reason of general information and intelligence, the laws provide that the acts of our officials shall be published and that the minutes of meetings shall be published. But frequently, when this is done, the minutes are so published as to prevent any actual information being gained, and the public is no wiser than it was before.

Sometimes public officials publish the matter that is designed for the general public in publications of such limited circulation, that almost no one sees it. And there again, the purpose of the law is defeated.

In today's paper, there appears the official statement of the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors of this county on Tuesday of this week. The publication of this is paid for. It is not paid for, however, in The Register. A paper of more limited circulation is chosen by the Supervisors to this end.

The Register is publishing it, as it obtains it, in order that the people may know the facts, as far as we can give them to them. The readers should look over that official statement. Note we have in it: "Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Demands on the county of Orange were allowed as read."

Now what were these demands on the county of Orange? What was allowed? How much was allowed? And what for? Nothing is said about it. We don't know anything about it. In fact, take the whole statement of the minutes, and it will be found that nothing is calculated to give the people information.

It will be noted that a resolution for the construction of a bridge over the Santa Ana river on Fifth street was accepted, and bids are to be received. The strange part of it is that the publication of this was ordered in a very fine and worthy paper, but as far as the county is concerned, of extremely limited circulation.

Can you imagine any purpose of concealing such an important proposition from those who are naturally reading the larger publications of the county?

Then the next item: "Transfer of funds was ordered made." What funds? Why were they transferred? What was it all about? Were they being juggled? We have heard of such things being done. And so it goes on.

There is scarcely an item in the minutes that would inform a reader of what it was all about. We believe the payment for the publication of such minutes is certainly a waste of public money. And it defeats the purpose of the law. The manner of publication defeats it in two ways,—first, by not giving the information adequately to inform the reader, and second, printing it in such limited and obscure papers as to practically conceal the news, rather than give it to the public. We would be glad to know why this is being done.

HELP FOR UNEMPLOYED

There has come to us the suggestion that it might be well for all those who may aid in so doing, to save the fruit and vegetables that might otherwise be wasted and unsold,—gather them together at one point, and have the present unemployed preserve them through jams, jellies or canning, for their consumption later in the year.

We all know that there is frequently a large amount of certain kinds of fruit and vegetables which is wasted. At some periods it is one kind, and in other periods, another. But such edibles as tomatoes, string beans, peas, corn, apricots, peaches, plums, figs, etc., could be handled in this manner.

It is very possible for the Goodwill Industries to superintend such an enterprise. With the co-operation of the Salvation Army, the Community Chest, various committees from church organizations, and philanthropic people, a great saving could be had, without seriously affecting the market.

We believe it would be quite amazing to find how cheaply the preservation of food products could be made by such a process. Figs, which many people consider of very little value, are very nutritious, and dried or preserved, can hardly be excelled. There is a vast amount of these various fruits and vegetables which goes to waste; sometimes through surplus or a fear of lowering prices. There are many people whose need for these very things is great, and who are unable to lay in a supply or to even purchase them for current needs.

Frankly, we have not gone into the details of the subject. We are passing on the suggestion to these other groups, but in these days of stress, and in the winter months which are to come, as solicitations for aid are made, and when the hungry need to be fed, it seems that now when nature is so generous, we should take advantage of that generosity.

A gentleman brought to our office the other day some fine apricot jam, than which we can imagine nothing more palatable with bread, and with simply sugar and apricots, its cost, not counting labor, was very small.

The working out of this would give labor to some of the unemployed. Its distribution to those who are unable to purchase would not interfere with the regular market for the products in a commercial way.

We wonder if there are not possibilities along this line. The Register expresses now its desire to aid in any such undertaking, if it is thought advisable by those whose training gives them expert knowledge along this line, and whose office entails upon them the obligation of leadership in aiding the unfortunate.

Riding to An Education

Christian Science Monitor

Last year more than $40,000,000 was spent in the United States to transport children to rural schools, and from the country to city high schools. This seems an enormous amount, but probably many times this figure could be set as the value of the resultant gains in literacy and general cultural improvement.

This does not mean that the school bus has displaced private vehicles or that the children merely receive the luxury of a ride instead of having to walk. It means that many who before were unable to attend school at all because of long distances to walk may now obtain an education. It means also that they are able to attend better and more modernly equipped schools, centrally located, and that those who before were forced to halt their education where the rural school left off, now may go on to high school. It also means that even those who regularly walk short distances may attend school when weather makes walking difficult or impossible.

Increasing literacy in the more backward districts may be traced partly to this move making education more accessible. The unlearned are not always ready to put forth great effort to gain knowledge. By placing the school almost at the door, learning becomes not only more easy but more attractive.

Other factors, such as saving of time, which is important in rural communities where the children must hurry home to help with the "chores," make the school bus not only a valuable convenience but a necessity in many cases.

It is only just that education should be made as easy for the farmer as for the city dweller. More money spent for this purpose will not be misplaced.

Forest Fire Facts and the Dreadful Aftermath

Riverside Enterprise

The Wisconsin conservation commissioner has checked up and reported the after effects of the worst forest fire in the history of that state. Since similar tragedies must follow forest fires almost everywhere, they should have wide publicity.

Fish, birds and wild animals suffer terribly during the progress of a forest fire. But their troubles do not end when the fire is put out. Many of those that survive the flames die later from lack of food and lack of protective covering, both of which are destroyed by fire. Fishes die in streams because of warmed and ash-poisoned water and lack of oxygen. Deer suffer from badly burned feet.

It has been estimated that barely 1 per cent of Wisconsin's forest fires are caused by lightning. The other 99 per cent are the result of human carelessness or indifference. The whole effect of forest fires is considered more destructive to game than all the violations of hunting and fishing laws.

The vacation season is well under way now. People are turning to the woods for one-day outings and recreation and for longer periods of camping and outdoor life. It seems incredible that people who truly enjoy such excursions would remain indifferent to the damage any carelessness of theirs might cause if they understood the situation. Somehow, this particular branch of public education must be more thorough.

New Quarter Coming

Oakland Tribune

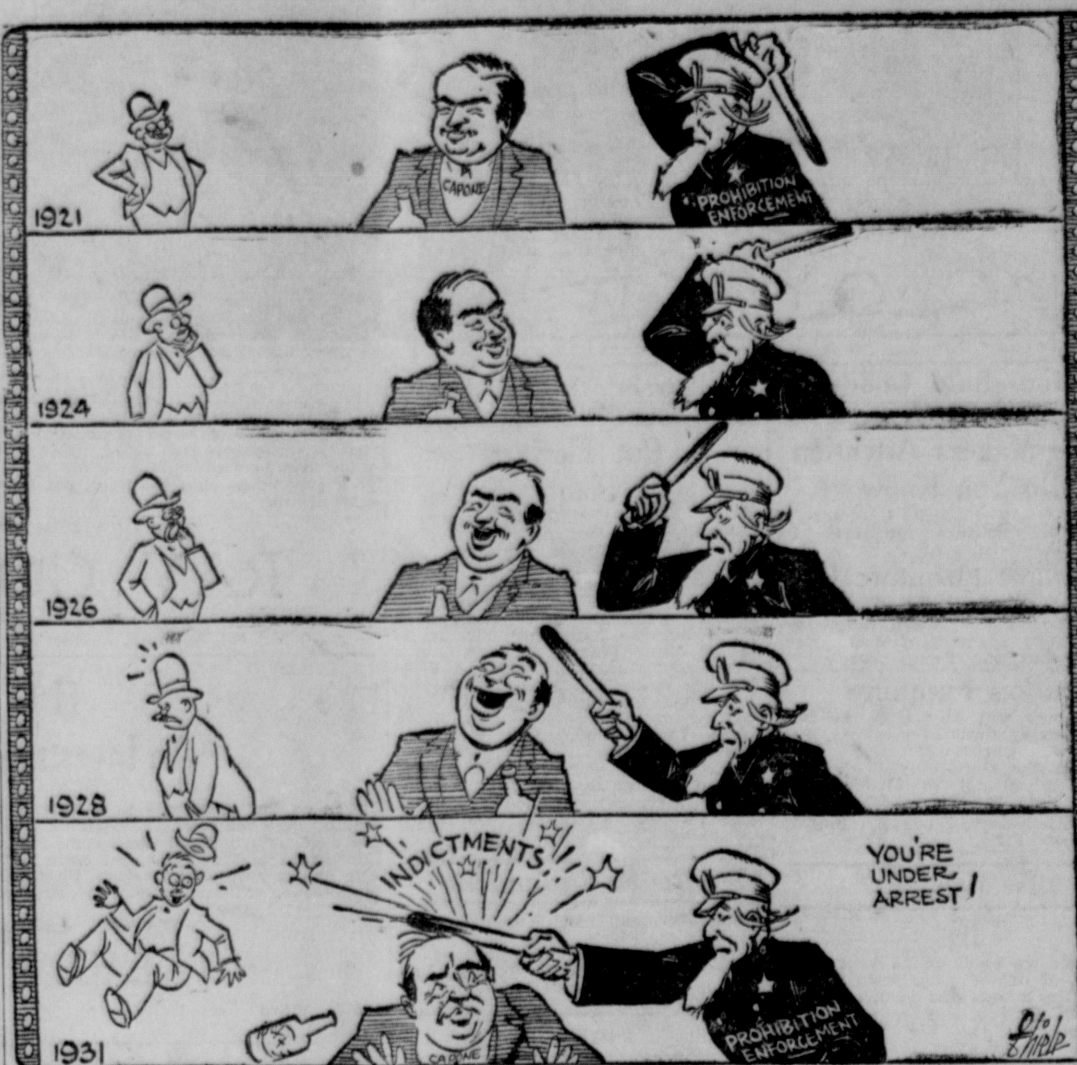

The artist who submits the best designs for a new quarter to be put in circulation next year is to receive fifteen hundred dollars. Other competitors will get no reward save the experience.

Acting under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, the directors of the mint have sent letters to prominent sculptors and artists telling them of the plans for a George Washington quarter dollar and giving them four months in which to submit their plaster casts.

The George Washington quarter will be a coin of regular issue, and must comply with the law of March 4, 1931, which stipulates that it shall bear the image of George Washington. The general coinage laws require that on one side of all coins shall appear an impression emblematic of liberty with the word "Liberty," and the year of coinage. On the reverse side the law specifies an eagle with the inscriptions "United States of America" and "E Pluribus Unum," and the designation of the value of the coin. The motto "In God We Trust" must also appear on the coin, but may be on either side.

The only restrictions under which the artists will be required to work are those made by law. The portrait of George Washington, which must appear on the coin, will be regarded as the required emblem of liberty.

JOE'S COMFORTERS

When my shin has encountered the rim of a chair
As I grope through my bedroom at night
I am little comforted when I soothingly told:
"Do not mind it; you'll soon be all right."

I have dug up for margins while yet there remained
A dollar or two in my jeans;
I have felt, for a twelvemonth, increasingly pained
By the unceasing drain on my means.
I have been parted from all my few treasured shares,
And it grieves me when Big Business Men
Consoling say that financial affairs
Will be soon back to normal again.

I should never have gambled at all; but I did,
And my brief fleeting riches seemed sweet,
Then I presently learned, as the rest of you did,
That the bottom had dropped from the Street.
And now I refuse even feebly to cheer,
For the future looks even more black,
When from some hopeful banker or other I hear
That the market is soon coming back.

When in futile attempts to get rich overnight
I have tossed all my money away
I do not feel so glad when some sunny lad
Remarks: "Pooh! Things will soon be o. k."

Reaching For the Moon

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

"Competition for the consumer's dollar," we are told, "causes enormous wastes, which could be largely eliminated under a co-operative system of industry." This is part of the socialist indictment of capitalism.

Competition for the consumer's dollar is undoubtedly the cause of enormous wastes; but we must not overlook the fact that the cause of this competition is the consumer's freedom of choice in the use of his dollar.

There are many ways in which these "wastes" could be reduced; but there is only one way in which they could be "largely eliminated," namely, by the elimination of the consumer's freedom of choice.

The cost of distribution of regulation army supplies is small. No efforts are wasted in persuading the individual soldier to choose this style of overcoat or that kind of breakfast food, for he has no choice. Provided we were all willing to accept whatever the State produced and allotted to us, we could do away with much of the present cost of distribution. No money would be "wasted" in urging us to reach for this instead of that. Reaching for anything which the State refused to provide would be like reaching for the moon.

We must not overlook the fact, however, that the efforts of competitors to sell their goods are properly called "wastes" only so far as the privilege of choosing among competing products, and the improvement in the products themselves that results from this competition, are not worth paying for.

The consumer's freedom of choice, which is the chief business risk, and therefore the chief cause of business profits and losses, is also the chief cause of the high cost of distribution.

Are we willing to give up freedom of choice?

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

BLAMING THE SCHOOLS

As we pass through a phase of economic stringency, we begin to subject all of our institutions to fresh analysis and audit.

In piping times of peace and plenty we pour out our money in support of our churches and our schools, let us say, without great bother to subject their service to critical assessment.

But when the pinch comes, we begin to say that we must spend our money carefully in the places where returns are justifying the investment.

All this is good if we keep our judgment honest. There is, however, a powerful temptation to trump up false charges against our institutions and to use these charges as an excuse for laxness in loyalty to these basic institutions.

Evidence accumulates that the next few years may witness a slackening of public support of American schools on the plea that these schools have failed to produce men and women able to prevent the world-wide phase of economic slump and social irresponsibility through which we are for the time passing.

That we are in a phase of widespread disintegration of ancient standards and sanctions respecting morals and economics and government is beyond dispute. Manifestly the advance of knowledge has led us to surrender many old standards before our advance in social insight and inventiveness has resulted in new standards.

But I want to protest the tendency to load the main blame for this upon the schools.

The schools have stepped bravely into the breach caused by the loosening controls of the home and the church over the spirit and standards of mankind.

They are, I make bold to say, the sturdiest bulwarks we have today against loose thinking, loose living, materialism, cynicism, and social irresponsibility.

No institution of our social order accepts more frankly the impulse of public criticism or prosecutes more freely the enterprise of private experimentation than does the school.

We must free our schools from cheap political control, support them adequately, make the rewards and regulations of the teaching profession such that we shall stop draining our best genius off into other callings, and give them a real chance to salvage our civilization.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE BUDGET

The heads of most of the households in the country keep a budget of some kind. We have all learned that it is wise to know how much money we have to spend, and to know how we spend it. A budget means a plan for saving and spending and a plan always means order and discipline. So far so good. It isn't far enough, nor good enough. The children are left out of it.

Money is a great stumbling block for children. They know nothing about it. The first thing they learn is that it can be used to buy joy. A penny means candy, a nickel means a ride on the pony, a quarter means the movies. Immediate spending is the ideal of childhood.

Following childhood comes the phase that takes thought. "Mother, if I saved up my money could I have a water bail?" Now is the time for an extended allowance. The child is taught that the money he gets is to cover so much of his needs. First he is accompanied on his shopping trips. As soon as possible, he goes alone. Gradually his allowance is extended and he plans for saving for future needs as well as those of the day. Always he is advised by his father or mother.

But this is not the end of the matter. The child must know where his allowance comes from and what relation it bears to the family budget. Fathers and mothers dislike taking the children into confidence about money matters. They fear they will tell all they know and tell it at the most inopportune place and time. If they are trained from the beginning they will not. They become partners in the concern, the most loyal of partners. They lend strength to the family spirit. They share in the planning and the spending and become knitted into the fabric that is the family. It is surely safe enough to tell the children how much money there is this month for household expenses. A family council is held and the monthly plan is talked over. Shall we lay aside an amount for a new car, or is it better to keep on with the old one and plan to buy a new rug? The children will be keenly interested in all this planning. They will help. They will become intelligent on the subject of money in the household and that in itself is a worthy end.

Family interest in the budget, frank discussion about everything in it, does something else beside teach children the use of money. It teaches them a great deal about human nature. And it teaches them appreciation for their father's and mother's service.

A boy who has been reared in this way broke into the family gathering one evening with glad shouts: Dad, you're going to have a new overcoat. Here it is. I got the scholarship for next year. The minute I got it I saw you in a swanky coat. Gee, it's time. Ten years is a long time for a coat. Hope I'll be able to wear mine as long as that."

It wasn't just that coat the lad was talking about. And it wasn't just the scholarship his father held in his hand that night. There are many ways of accomplishing one's end. Have you used the budget to forward yours?

EMBARGO ACTION

On June 9, 1917, it was announced that President Wilson had decided to exercise in full the powers conferred upon him by the embargo clause in the espionage law and thereby make it possible for neutral countries or the allies of America to export from this country so much as a bushel of wheat or the smallest quantity of any other essential commodity without obtaining a license and the approval of the Exports Council.

The council was to be composed of Herbert Hoover and representatives of the Departments of State, War, Navy and Commerce.

The statement was made through Secretary Redfield of the Department of Commerce.

President Wilson was to assume full responsibility for the decisions made, and in reaching his conclusion he was to have at his disposal all of the information and advice of Secretary of State, Lansing and Mr. Hoover.
